Poem of the week

A poison tree

By William Blake

I was angry with my friend;
 I told my wrath, my wrath did end.
 I was angry with my foe:
 I told it not, my wrath did grow.

And I watered it in fears,
 Night and morning with my tears;
 And I sunned it with smiles,
 And with soft deceitful wiles.

And it grew both day and night,
 Till it bore an apple bright.
 And my foe beheld it shine,
 And he knew that it was mine.

And into my garden stole,
 When the night had veiled the pole;
 In the morning glad I see,
 My foe outstretched beneath the tree.

Shopping wisely: tricks to save your time and money

With all the sales around you, don't let the market trick you. Don't escape from your responsibility at home, you need to go shopping, so be smart and economic and choose wisely. Here are 7 ways to save your money once you go shopping:

1 Start shopping in the middle of the store

You typically find the produce section at the front of the store, where the bright colours put you in a good mood and inspire you to buy more. Stay awake and stick to your budget by starting more in the middle, surrounded by the less vibrant boxed and canned food.

2 Food tricks

- Buy cheese from the dairy case instead of the deli counter, it will be cheaper.
- Buy sea food from frozen aisle because you will find them at the same price but without the need of 40 percent thawing and preparations for show.

Visit the big stores

Make an attack for big stores that, you will find same products at lower prices, logically, they are experts and don't need to charge extra and lose you.

Make a plan

Don't leave your house for a shopping spree without your notes, they will help you to be organised, save time, and allow you to come back with all you really need. Don't waste your time remembering if you still have the items or if you need them.

3 Cleaning products

- Avoid brands: It's not necessary to buy famous brands for these products, just make sure it has the same effect elements.
- Use the refill way: Try to avoid cans or bottles, try big plastic bags for hand wash liquid or cleaning powder.
- Go green: There are a lot of intensive cleaning fluids that help the cleaning machines to save power and the product.

When it's about clothes

• Try not to shop when bored. When you are bored, you might end up buying things you don't really like. Spend the time with friends if you're bored, but don't go shopping alone.

• Shop out of season, because coats are cheaper in the summer. Plan your big shopping trips a couple of months in advance to find some great deals.

Only bring the cash you need:

Before you go out, count approximately the amount you need and put small cash in your wallet to cover it. If the cash runs out, your shopping spree is done for the day.

Counting the burnt calories

How many calories do we burn through cardio, sports, and yoga?

By Ruba Eid

Many people believe that walking and running the same distance burns an equal number of calories. I had to be more specific in my searches to target workout exercise and calorie burning measures and what I found is that the number of calories we burn during our workout depends on a lot of factors. Say, the number of calories burnt during one hour of yoga depends on factors like gender, body weight, muscle to fat ratio among other factors, as well as the type of yoga we practice.

Strength training to build muscle

When you exercise, you use muscle. This helps build muscle mass, and muscle tissue burns more calories – even when you're at rest – than body fat. According to Wharton, 10 pounds of muscle would burn 50 calories in a day spent at rest, while 10 pounds of fat would burn 20 calories.

Running

Minute for minute running is one of the most effective forms of exercise for burning calories. Your calorie burn is determined by many factors including things like fitness levels and genetic factors, but the things which have the most impact are your weight, time spent running and speed. For example if your weight is 60 Kg, and you run for hour in 6 mph, you will burn 614 calories.

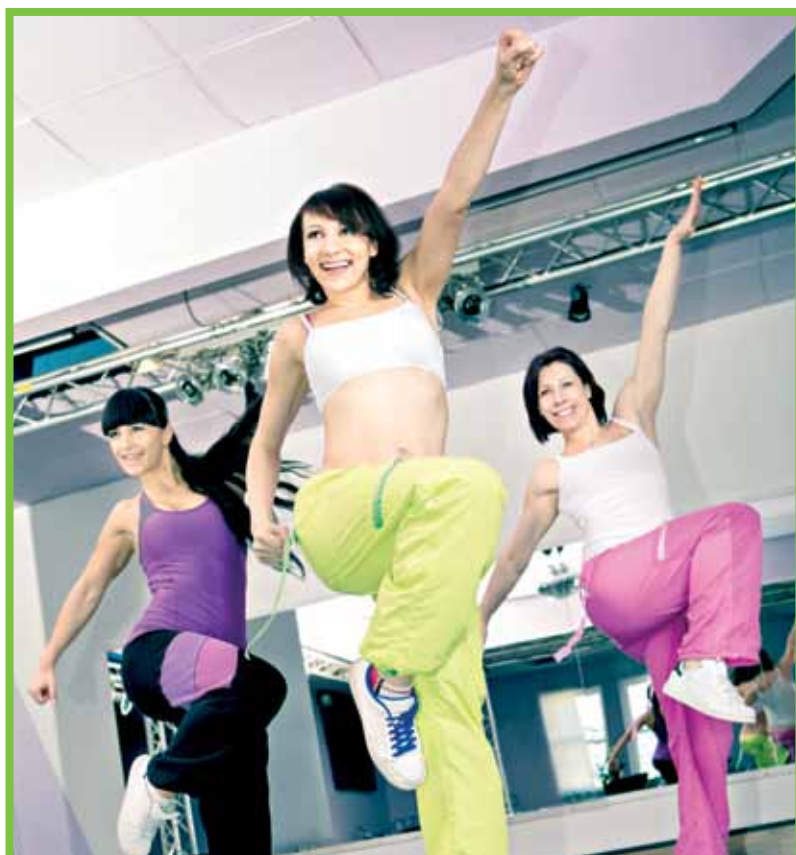

Walking

That's not to say physical activity, such as walking, isn't important for weight control — it is. If you add 30 minutes of brisk walking to your daily routine, you could burn about 150 more calories a day.

Yoga

Most types of yoga don't have the same level of calorie-burning power as aerobic exercise does. Consider that a person who weighs 68 kilogrammes will burn 240 calories in an hour of doing regular yoga, compared with 360 calories for an hour of aerobics.

Zumba

Many other resources tell you that you can burn 500 – 1000 Zumba calories per hour, this is good to know but still a bit vague. Other examples state that if you are 150lb you burn 536 Zumba calories per hour; this is great if you happen to be 150lb, but what about everyone else?

5 ways to destroy employee moral

Companies are always on the look for ways to keep their employees motivated. Unfortunately, many managers can unintentionally fall prey to behaviours that can have a negative impact on employee morale and the company's ability to retain top talent. There's no one-size-fits-all method when it comes to employee morale, but there are things that should be avoided in most situations – if you want your employees to look forward to going to work every day. Akhtaboot is here to highlight the negative practices that can destroy employee morale and how you can avoid them.

Micromanagement

When a manager hesitates to delegate, focuses on minor details as opposed to the big picture and discourages his employees from taking the initiative, there's a very big chance that he's a micromanager. Micromanagement is an obsolete leadership style that is all about trying to observe and control all aspects of your employees' work. Most employees become timid and hesitant and possibly even paralysed. You need to free people from boxes if you want their creativity to be unleashed.

Dishonesty

Dishonesty is the easiest way to destroy your employees' morale. If management fails to share crucial information, employees will come to their own conclusions and they will eventually become disengaged. Always keep your employees informed. This doesn't mean that you have to disclose confidential information. It means that you should keep your promises, give credit where it's due and share information that's crucial to your employees' ability to perform their jobs.

Criticising in public

The term 'criticism' carries a baggage of negativity. On the other hand, the term 'feedback' implies a request for improvement. Feedback is an opportunity for mutual growth and progress; you learn by getting feedback and you also learn by giving feedback. That's why you need to reposition your criticism into the context of feedback. Both you and your employee will feel more relaxed and it will encourage employees to improve their performance to get noticed. The next time you're tempted to lash out at an employee, remember this motto: praise in public; criticise in private.

Not investing in employee training

Many organisations hold back on training and development programmes as they fear people might leave after they've heavily invested in them. This might happen, there's no doubt about it. However, one of the main reasons why many people leave organisations is that they feel that they are no longer learning anything new. Successful leaders don't just mouth empty phrases like 'people are our greatest assets'. They demonstrate that by unlocking the untapped potential of their employees. They understand that holding back on investing in employee training is risky business.

Setting unrealistic targets

Setting unrealistic goals creates a culture of failure and will destroy your employee morale in the long run. Great managers know that people are motivated by achieving challenging goals on a regular basis. That's why they always make sure that the goals are specific and measurable enough so that they can track progress and evaluate the need for correction at an early stage. Make sure you have the resources to accomplish those goals so that you don't overwhelm your employees with too many tasks.

The fair winds of Buenos Aires

Are you getting sick of work? Have you been eager to go and discover what traditions the hottest destinations of Latin America can offer? If so, then why not escape on an exhilarating adventure to the Argentine capital Buenos Aires? Where there's incredible food, fresh young designers, and a thriving cultural scene. Beyond the phrase of it being the "Paris of South America", Buenos Aires is a dynamic city of world-class art that's always on the move.

By Wissam Aoun

MUSEUM OF LATIN AMERICAN ART IN BUENOS AIRES

Discovering some of the best artistic artefacts is always interesting, and that's why you should visit the Museum of Latin American Art of Buenos Aires, which has an impressive permanent collection and a continuous stream of new and exciting temporary exhibitions. Visitors seamlessly transition from one period of art to the next. The artwork varies from social and political art from the 1930s, to the surrealism of the 1940s and 50s, to the pop art of the 1960s and 70s. Along the journey you will witness the finest works of art including paintings, sculptures, photography, and drawings.

CALLE FLORIDA

One of the best places to go shopping in Buenos Aires is in Calle Florida. Not only is the pedestrian passageway lined with shops selling leather goods, souvenirs and jewels, but also it is home to numerous eateries of note. In addition, street performers gather there when shops shut at sunset, making it well worth the visit as it is one of the major tourist attractions in Buenos Aires due to its large choice of goods you can purchase.

SANTANU MONDAL

You've surely heard of the Tango dance. It is a traditional dance very well known in Argentina and also around the world. Being the only outdoor museum in Buenos Aires, the Calle Museo Caminito is definitely worth a visit. It is a tango zone that operates along colourful, scimitar-shaped byway and is a cheesy tourist trap. Local art painters, photographers, and sculptors peddle their creations from stalls along Caminito. Each restaurant in Caminito has its own outdoor stage, so expect a lot of fun!

URBAN BIKING TOURS

If you're a sporty fella, or simply just interested in the local history and culture, you should definitely take one of the Urban Biking tours where you ride off the beaten path with unconventional guided cycling tours of Buenos Aires. You can also take tours in spots even further such as the Tigre Delta and estancias. The sightseeing bike tour covers the best parts of the city where you can also explore on foot to take photos and eat delicious Argentine Asado and drink traditional refreshments.

Sony at EISA Awards

Sony has been recognised with six awards from EISA, the European Imaging and Sound Association – the largest editorial multimedia organisation in Europe. As Sony is committed to deliver high quality products and to present high technology items in televisions, digital imaging, home theatres, mobiles, and many others, this is another step to make sure of the quality. Furthermore, the titles that Sony won are: European Professional Compact System Camera of the year (7R). European Compact Camera of the year (DSC-RX100 III). European Camcorder of the year (FDR-AX100E). European 4K Ultra HD TV of the year (KDL-65X9005B). European Tablet of the year (Xperia™ Z2 Tablet). European Digital Source of the year (HAP-Z1ES).

Electric powered skates

Tired of walking long distances? Would you like to find a faster and less tiring way to traverse long distances? It's not a car and not a bike; it's the new electric skates! This gadget might look weird to use in public or can be a bit embarrassing for some, but it would be fun to cross some distances on electric skates. Moreover, these skates are powered by lithium-ion battery, which comes in 3 configurations: it can either last 45 minutes, 70 minutes, or 90 minutes. And each of the pair is equipped with two motors, a built in compressor, to synchronise the two and maintain the same speed. But how do you use it? If you want to speed up, just move and tilt your feet forward, if you want to slow down, move and tilt your feet to the back. You can track and monitor the route you're taking, and the way you are using the skates from the app for Smart phones.

Smart bluetooth padlock

After the Bluetooth door lock and Bluetooth tracking devices, here comes a Bluetooth padlock which seems to be pretty close to perfection. Noke is a padlock that automatically unlocks whenever it senses you close if paired with your Smartphone. Noke is an 8 ounce lock, water resistant, with a replaceable battery that lasts for a year, and a phone app to be downloaded and make it function. To that, add an LED light on the front side when lock in on. Furthermore, and unlike some other locks, you don't really have to use your phone to open the lock! If the phone is enabled and you're around 10 feet away from the lock, it will automatically open. No need for the hassle of holding locks and keys anymore! Everything is going smart and same I true for locks.

Smart watch projection

Can there be a watch without a screen? Yes there can. Ritot Projection Watch, as its name says, projects everything on your hand, without the need for a screen to be used. It looks like a bracelet when worn, but you need to know what time it is, or who's calling, or who sent you an sms as well – anything can be projected on your hand. Furthermore, to be able to display sms and calls, there's an app that connects it to your phone. It can offer incoming caller ID, text messages, reminders, emails, social media updates, weather conditions, and much more! And most importantly, it can also act as a fitness tracker. Ritot watch is designed to be unisex, comes in different colours, is waterproof, and it can be charged wirelessly using its charger. Seems like the future is already here today.

NEWS ON WHEELS

Lexus has announced the opening of participations in the third edition of the award for the Lexus design. The Lexus design award was first globally launched in 2013, aiming to support young design innovators. The award received considerable attention around the world thanks to its unique guideline which participants can produce distinct business models inspired by the creative ideas. Moreover, as for the subject of the 2015 competition, it's about the senses. Senses are essential for life. It is through senses that people interact with the world around, through vision, hearing, touching, smelling, and tasting. Where all are connected to the Lexus Company, by seeing the design, hearing the engine, feeling the touch of the soft interior and such. The winners would have the opportunity to present their work in front of a wide range of the community, as well as some will receive support from international design consultants to develop their models to business.

Lexus design competition

The exceptional: Audi TT RS

Audi has excelled in sports car designs and the same for the TT RS in its distinctive size and its daily use option. The Audi manufacturer has an extensive history of making great cars. The TT RS comes equipped with all the best possible, a spacious interior, modern design, and a unique exterior body. Let's experience the performance of the Audi TT RS.

Engine

The Audi TT engine is a five-cylinder, 2.5-liter FSI technology (direct fuel injection), 340 Hp between 5,400 and 6,500rpm, and 450Nm of torque between 1,600 and 5,300rpm. It also accelerates from 0 to 100km/h in just 4.6 seconds and reaches a top speed of 250km/h. As for the fuel consumption, the car needs around 13.1 liters/100 km on city roads, and around 6.9 liters/100km on the highway. And concerning the CO2 emissions, it reaches 304g/km on city roads and 0.161g/km on the highway approximately.

Body

The TT model reflects the sporty character of Audi. The design is very special and unique. It has a brutal front design with a big grill. LED lights in the front and back, consisting of 12 lamps with glowing technique control the lighting time. The lines are so soft and very expressive at the same time. It's very noticeable that the ceiling curves down towards the end till it reaches the back.

Interior

The dashboard is definitely sporty, combining different materials used such as leather and other surfaces. It contains only essential buttons to make the driver focus on the driving more. The steering wheel and the ventilations holes go along. The seats are designed to fit the shape of the body of passengers, and to provide maximum comfort. Black colour is extensively used inside which increases the luxuriousness of the design, in addition to chrome used for a special luster.

Congrats competition, for which they have to upload videos on social networking pages congratulating the Dubai Metro with the hashtag #MetroTurns5 on its 5th Anniversary.

Five winners will be selected from both contests, and the first winner from the Metro Baby competition will win a trip to Euro Disney along with three family members. There's something special in store for the other four winners as well, who will all be selected in a draw that will be recorded and uploaded on social media. The winners of the Metro Congrats competition will receive a gold coin minted specially for the occasion with the Dubai Metro logo worth Dh10,000.

In addition to the social media contests, commuters will find surprises on September 9 at five different metro stations. As part of the celebrations, up to 10,000 gifts will be distributed to the commuters using NOL cards. Gifts to be won include silver coins bearing the Dubai Metro logo among other things. Special commemorative NOL cards will also be issued for the occasion, which are collectibles. "The launch of these events after the lapse of five years since the launch of the Dubai Metro project is a true manifestation of the close relationship between the RTA and the public representing various community spectrums, and reflects endeavours made to thrash out ideas and initiatives aimed bringing happiness to users of public transport modes through adopting a host of recreational and funny methods," said Moaza Al Marri, Director of RTA Marketing and Corporate Communication.

"It's great to know about these competitions. This breaks the daily grind of commuting to and from work, and gives us something to look forward to. I hope I win," said Yasir Saleem from Pakistan, a regular commuter of the Dubai Metro. "This just goes to show that the authorities and management look after us and are constantly trying to connect with us, through the lifeline of Dubai," he added.

Football:

Manchester United close in on Marcos Rojo as Nani heads the other way. The club signed the Argentina World Cup star with a price of £16million, making him only United's third signing this summer after Ander Herrera and Luke Shaw. "It's a dream to play at Manchester United and I am very proud of having the chance of working with Louis van Gaal," Rojo said.

Cricket:

Alex Hales is hoping to give a good impression after he was named in England's 15-man squad to face India in the ODI series. This is the 25-year-old's first time being called up to the ODI squad following his impressive performance with Nottinghamshire. Hales looks ready to be given the opportunity to stick as captain Alastair Cook's opening partner in the upcoming five-match limited-overs series.

Athletics:

UK athletes are prepared to go global following their shocking success at the European Championships. The team won 23 medals, including 12 golds. Performance director Neil Black said "This was a critical phrase in the process through to Rio and they've grabbed it. We are going global from here onwards."

Suarez vows pleasant behaviour

Luis Suarez has made his promise to Barcelona fans that he will never bite again. The Uruguay striker saw himself to a four month ban from all football-related activity after biting Giorgio Cheillini at the World Cup in Brazil.

Suarez has admitted that he is seeking professional help to refrain from any further lengthy punishments. The former Liverpool striker will play his first competitive match after his ban ends on October 26.

"The dream of playing for Barcelona comes from many years ago, as a kid," he said. "When the Barca offer came up, I didn't think twice. My ban is what it is and we have to accept it. I have apologised and I've been talking to professionals in order to deal with it. I say to all the fans not to worry about that. I won't be doing that anymore."

Road to recovery

Tiger Woods claims that it would not have been fair if he was chosen for the American Ryder Cup team as he was not fit enough. The 14-time major championship has also withdrawn from next month's event at Gleneagles in order to fully recover from a troublesome back injury.

"Physically I just couldn't do it, I wouldn't be ready and not being ready for my team-mates, for the captain, assistants captains and everyone who's involved in the event, I couldn't help the team," said Woods.

Woods targets a return at his event in December and focuses on getting stronger day by day. "It's a little tough right now but generally it's getting better, there's no doubt. We've got it all calmed down, now it's about the strengthening up process," he added.

Back on track

Formula 1 action finally returns after a four week break following the last race in Hungary. The first race to occur after the summer break will be the Belgian Grand Prix which will be held at the legendary Spa-Francorchamps circuit. The race consists of 44 laps with a track length of 7.004 km.

England's Lewis Hamilton wishes to return to the Formula 1 track better than ever as he feels this year's Driver's Championship fight with Nico Rosberg is even more intense than his title winning campaign in 2008.

This year, the rivalry between the Mercedes teammates means that they both have identical machinery to compete, making it more difficult for each other. "The battle does feel a lot more intense this year," Hamilton said. "Now I am racing against a guy who has the same car as me, we both have access to exactly the same data and feedback so it is really hard to try and be ahead."

Imminently vulnerable

The United States could possibly face defeat from hosts Spain and several other teams in the Basketball World Cup 2014 as the Americans are missing their biggest names. New York Knicks playmaker Pablo Prigioni has said "Spain and a few other teams now have a chance of defeating the United States. It will be interesting to see how they will adjust now that they are missing their biggest names."

The United States will face some trouble defending the World Cup they won in Istanbul in 2010 as LeBron James, Kevin Durant, Carmelo Anthony, Kevin Love and Blake Griffin have all rejected invitations to play.

Nadal to miss US Open

Rafael Nadal has been forced to withdraw from the US Open due to injury, leaving the Spaniard unable to defend his title. The world No 2 hasn't played since losing to Nick Kyrgios at Wimbledon last month. He suffered an injury to his right wrist as he was practicing for the US hardcourt season, however the injury was bad enough to force him out of the Rogers Cup in Toronto and the Cincinnati Open.

Nadal confirmed via social media that he will miss the last Grand Slam event of the year which starts on Monday. "I am very sorry to announce I won't be able to play at this year's US Open, a tournament in which I've played in three consecutive finals," he said.

Creamy Rice Pudding

Here's our selection of some delectable recipes for the foodie. BON APPETIT!

Ingredients:

3/4 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups milk, divided
1/3 cup white sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
2/3 cup golden raisins
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Procedure:

1. Bring 1 1/2 cups water to a boil in a saucepan; stir rice into boiling water. Reduce heat to low, cover, and simmer for 20 minutes.
2. In a clean saucepan, combine 1 1/2 cups cooked rice, 1 1/2 cups milk, sugar and salt. Cook over medium heat until thick and creamy, for 15 to 20 minutes. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup milk, beaten egg, and raisins; cook for 2 more minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in butter and vanilla.

Turkey Chili

Ingredients:

1 1/2 teaspoons olive oil
1 pound ground turkey
1 onion, chopped
2 cups water
1 (28 ounce) can canned crushed tomatoes
1 (16 ounce) can canned kidney beans - drained, rinsed, and mashed
1 tablespoon garlic, minced
2 tablespoons chili powder
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dried oregano
1/2 teaspoon ground cayenne pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

Procedure:

1. Heat the oil in a large pot over medium heat. Place turkey in the pot, and cook until evenly brown. Stir in onion, and cook until tender.
2. Pour water into the pot. Mix in tomatoes, kidney beans, and garlic. Season with chili powder, paprika, oregano, cayenne pepper, cumin, salt, and pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low, cover, and let it simmer for 30 minutes.

Chicken, potato & green bean curry

Ingredients:

1 tbsp sunflower oil
1 onion, chopped
6 chicken thigh fillets, cubed
2 potatoes, cut into small cubes
2 tbsp mild curry paste
500g tomato passata (or whizz up a 400g can plum tomatoes with 100ml water until smooth)
200g fine green beans
150g pot natural yogurt (use full-fat to avoid curdling)

Procedure:

1. Heat the oil in a large frying pan and cook the onion and chicken together over a medium heat for 5 mins until the onion is soft.
2. Add the potatoes, curry paste and passata, bring to the boil, then cover and gently simmer for 15 mins. Add the beans and a splash of water and cook for 10-15 mins more until all the vegetables are tender and the chicken is cooked through. Remove from the heat and stir in the yogurt.
3. Serve with rice or naan.

Public bus seat occupancy up in Dubai

On-time arrivals prompt steadily growing use of public buses in travelling to various destinations across the emirate.

STATISTICS

Public bus occupancy in Dubai has risen remarkably in the first four months of 2014 to as much as 42.6 per cent, compared with 39.3 per cent posted in the same period last year, recording in the process an improvement rate of 8.5 per cent, thanks to the rising demand for this transit service by various segments of the community.

Essa Al Hashemi, Director of Planning and Business Development of the RTA's Public Transport Agency, said: "Among the key factors triggering the rise in the bus seat occupancy in Dubai is the obvious improvement in the accuracy of bus schedules as on-time arrivals encourage additional numbers of the public to use public buses in travelling to various destinations across the emirate." "Reviewing the best international practices adopted in this regard, and benchmarking with a host of cities in several of advanced countries such as Germany, France, Finland, Sweden, Britain and the USA, Dubai ranked third worldwide, after Germany and France, in the public bus seat occupancy rate. This news undoubtedly constitutes a massive achievement for the emirate, considering the record time in which it was made compared with a long history of cities in Europe, US, and Japan in the field of public transport," he noted. "We've adopted several steps to increase seat occupancy of public buses in Dubai including the continuous monitoring of the performance of public bus routes to identify the low occupancy routes, developing appropriate corrective measures for each route to be implemented in the final quarter of 2014, studying new demand areas, and analysing the possibility of increasing bus seats on high demand routes to keep pace with the volume of demand. Moreover, we measure public bus route operation in terms of seat occupancy; which contributes to the optimal distribution of network assets in physical and financial terms as the percentage of bus occupancy is measured by dividing the number of passenger-kilometre by the operational capacity-kilometer," added Al Hashemi.

"The RTA is constantly seeking to harness modern technology for the service of mass transit mode users in order to up the quality of passenger services. In this regard the RTA developed the Journey Planner (Wojhati); which is accessible through the RTA's website or 10 touch screens installed in main stations, enabling riders to plan their daily travels aboard various mass transit means including public buses," he added.

There are currently 107 bus routes in Dubai comprising local routes, metro stations feeder routes, CBD routes, express routes, and intercity routes.

New lab tests public transit fare systems

Facility covers metro, tram, public bus, water transport, taxi, parking fees, Nol card systems and ticket vending machines.

THE NEW LAB CHECKS PUBLIC TRANSIT FARE SYSTEMS

FACILITIES

The Rail Agency, Roads and Transport Authority (RTA), has launched a comprehensive laboratory dedicated to testing fare system of public transit means pertinent to the metro, tram, public bus, water transport and taxi. The system also covers parking fees,

Nol card systems and ticket vending machines at the disposal of approved sales agents. Abdullah Yusef Al Ali, CEO of the RTA Rail Agency, said: "Opening this integrated lab in the Metro Depot at Al Qusais is part of the endeavours of the agency to provide handy services to customers, particularly as the launch of Dubai Tram looms in the horizon.

"The role of the new lab is to carry out comprehensive technological testing of fare collections systems used in public transport to ensure that they are fully integrated, and have no technical glitches. The testing will also verify the conformity of the upgraded systems with the standards previously approved by the RTA before embarking on any approved upgrade of all automatic fare collection programs, and ensure that the fare is correctly calculated such that clients are not impacted upon taking rides of any public transit means," added Al Ali.

"As the RTA is keen on materialising the directives and vision of the senior management to make Dubai the smartest city in the world, the lab has been fitted with the latest technologies, systems and equipment in accordance with a set of technical standards set in advance by the work team conforming to the needs of the user and the business requirements. The lab is manned by a cream of external testing specialists and experts as well as fare system experts from various RTA agencies; all teaming together in carrying out a set of correct testing with a view to achieving customers' satisfaction, and meeting the strategic goals of the RTA.

"Whenever we embark on launching any programme or technological systems, we make concerted efforts to realise the vision of the RTA in providing safe and smooth transport for all through offering handy and seamless transit modes to customers. We have therefore opted to introduce a comprehensive testing lab as the launch date of Dubai Tram is approaching fast and as public transit means in the emirate are growing tremendously, and as we perceive a need to upgrade the technological programmes in keeping with the international standards of the industry," said Al Ali.

No violence or dirty comedy in Jackie Chan's film

Jackie Chan has recently said that he wants his films to have plenty of action, but no violence or dirty comedy. He said that he looks at his directorial films as his children, and has strict guidelines for them. "When I direct, the film is like my baby. I have to make sure there is comedy but no dirty comedy and a positive message," he said. "I like people to believe the stunts are real – it's not like Spider-Man or Iron Man... I only use a tiny bit of special effects. I want it to be believable, so where I used to do a triple kick, I now just do one. Eventually there will be no kicks," he added.

"Miley is bugging Dolly for the role. But Dolly refuses to play favourites, even though Miley has been bombarding her with audition tapes," a source said. "This movie is her legacy, and she told Miley she doesn't have the acting chops to pull it off," added the source.

Classic yet modern

H&M A/W 2014 collections marks a return to the classics... with a modern touch.

By Hanadi Dawara

A bohemian girl and a city man meet to create a stylish mix in the new H&M collection for fall winter 2014. The famous American apparel house showcased the collection exclusive to the Middle East in a studio that was also shown during Paris Fashion Week. The collection featured contrasts of sorts: charming feminine versus masculine ready-for-fun.

The design team has chosen for this season a marked return to golds – infused in slip dresses, held with thin straps that can be worn on their own or for layering with lace peeping from here and there.

Another look reflected a different angle of femininity through the sleekness of tailoring in blazers, biker coloured jacket, or suits matching shiny trousers with a draped and exposed shoulder top.

The men collection seemed to have been inspired by the women's line. So you can see stylish men in leather ensembles, loose jackets, long wool coats and outfits trimmed with tuxedo details for elegant night-time looks. Also featured in the collection is an array of rich yet modern numbers like a long caramel fur jacket and another pristine white jacket. Adding to the richness is the use of fabrics including silk and velvet in bright colours like red and pink.

I envisioned my mother in her classic coat when I saw a long loose and elegant jacket in the women's collection, and again, the combination of classic yet modern comes in, as the lace layers and red leather pants are fashionable and I can picture myself in them.

Adding some fun to this fabulous ready-to-wear collection is the new makeup and accessory range. There are trendy high boots, openwork black shoes along with several shades of bright lipcolours. From red to fuschia, there's everything you need for a stylish fall!

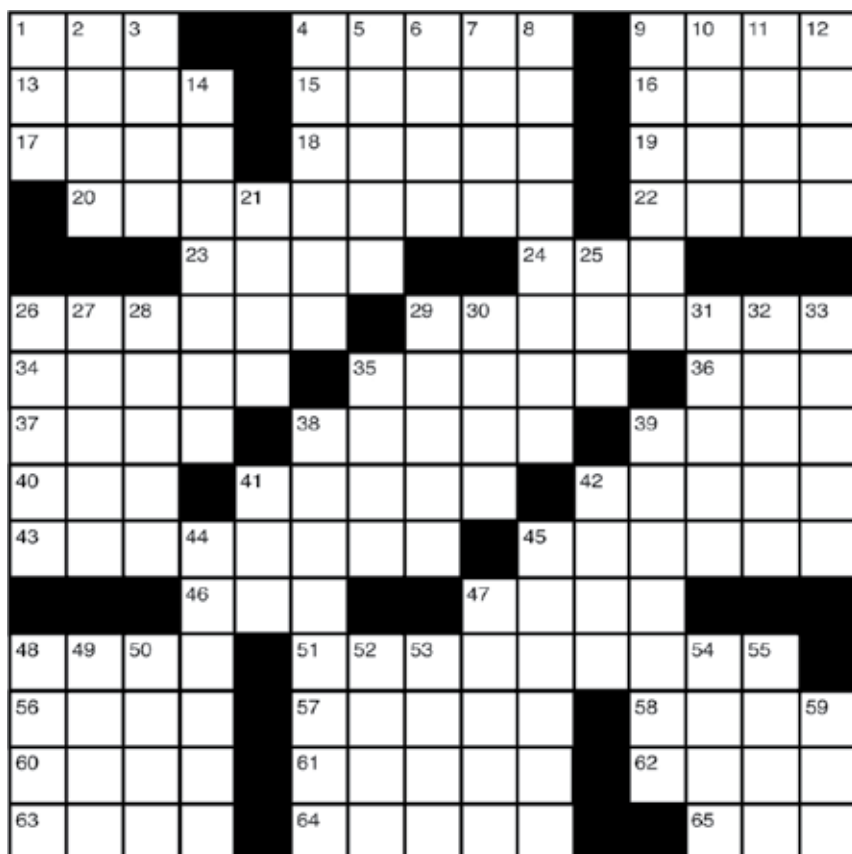

Indian man wins BMW in competition

And winning this fantastic prize has made Joyalukkas Jewellery my favourite jeweller for life!" The Joyalukkas Golden Carnival was offering customers a chance to win 12 BMWs and 2kg gold after shopping for Dh500 worth of jewellery. "The Joyalukkas Golden Carnival was one of the many ways in which we make the jewellery shopping experience of millions of customers, a truly rewarding one. The luckiest one drove away in a BMW 3 series car," said Joy Alukkas, Chairman Joyalukkas group.

CROSSWORD

What's in your stars?

The Read. astrologer tells you what you can expect over the next seven days.

ARIES

(MAR 21 - APR 20)

The days unfold with some amount of dread, you worry about the things you have to do, the people you have to call and forgetting to do things. But there's no need to fret, because sheer competence will make everything easy. You're good, so try to remember that.

TAURUS

(APR 21 - MAY 21)

Something's blossoming. Love? An affectionate friendship? An intuitive partnership on the level of Sherlock and Watson? You're inseparable. For the time being, table the conversation about what's developing between you two and let life take its course.

GEMINI

(MAY 22 - JUN 21)

You show how you feel on a billboard and still your family wouldn't understand it. They'd simply drive right by. If they did see it, they'd ask you to define your terms. Try not to let the difficulty communicating with them stop you from communicating altogether.

CANCER

(JUN 22 - JUL 23)

You can look at a very complex situation and find the one thing that's slightly amiss. And, even more than that, you know without thinking too hard what to do about it. This talent serves you very well. Someone at home might misunderstand something you say.

LEO

(JUL 24 - AUG 23)

You find yourself reassessing certain strategies and reconsidering goals. A couple of sacred cows may be less sacred. Plus, money is on your mind. Are you using your resources to their full potential? Maximizing potential remains a priority, but it takes on a social dimension.

VIRGO

(AUG 24 - SEP 23)

Of course, nothing makes you happier than to see so many ducks in orderly rows. Sense and order are major themes that inspire you to even greater feats of organisation. But there's no need to rush out and spend a bunch of money on a newfangled cherry wood organisational system.

LIBRA

(SEP 24 - OCT 23)

You're a social creature and you're getting a lot more out of your social time than the latest news and gossip that's going around. Underlying the casual banter is very real information about the lives of people you care about. As usual, your prowess as a listener is unmatched.

SCORPIO

(OCT 24 - NOV 22)

you can probably tell what a friend needs from you without having to ask. Your ability to come through with that sort of instinct separates you from run-of-the-mill friends, and this week is no time to be a so-so buddy. Flexibility, giving in to others, being laid-back, these should be your priorities.

SAGITTARIUS

(NOV 23 - DEC 21)

Extend yourself to get everything taken care of. At a certain point, reaching any further may seem impossible, but that's when you should jump into the challenge. The challenge is a bit abstract: It most likely comes from a difficult authority figure. Think of this as practice for dealing with people.

CAPRICORN

(DEC 22 - JAN 20)

You're taking notes on everything, plus making lists and drawing dimensional diagrams that illustrate the basic concepts of rocket science. Okay, maybe rocket science isn't involved, but you're certainly more serious right now than usual.

AQUARIUS

(JAN 21 - FEB 19)

The people you interact with each have their own goals, and short of sitting someone down and asking them straight out what their goals are, it can be hard to figure them out. Arguably, that makes asking all the more worth it, opening up new levels of understanding.

PISCES

(FEB 20 - MAR 20)

You have the sympathy of a Russian novelist. You can put yourself in the mind of anyone and see things from their perspective. Someone turns out to be quite a different person than you understood them to be. But you've come to understand them.
