Poem of the week

During wind and rain

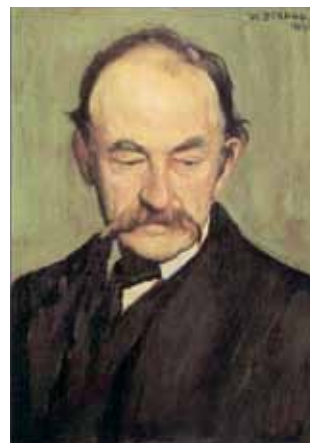

By Thomas Hardy

They sing their dearest songs,
 He, she, all of them - yea,
 Treble and tenor and bass.
 And one to play;
 With the candles mooning each face....
 Ah, no; the years O!

How the sick leaves reel down in throngs!
 They clear the creeping moss--
 Elders and juniors - aye,
 Making the pathways neat
 And the garden gay;
 And they build a shady seat....
 Ah, no; the years, the years;
 See, the white storm-birds wing across!

They are blithely breakfasting all,
 Men and maidens - yea,
 Under the summer tree,
 With a glimpse of the bay,
 While pet fowl come to the knee....
 Ah, no; the years O!
 And the rotten rose is ripped from the wall.

They change to a high new house,
 He, she, all of them - ye,
 Clocks and carpets and chairs
 On the lawn all day,
 And brightest things that are theirs....
 Ah, no; the years, the years;
 Down their carved names the raindrop plows.

China: exploring the MIDDLE kingdom

Escape to the historical and kingly Orient, starting with a trip to China.

By Wissam Aoun

There's nothing quite like an adventurous retreat to escape from the daily grind of life. We all go through stress and anxiety from work, school, and relationships. Here's an Asian delicacy waiting for you to explore. China is a country of awe-inspiring antiquity with dizzying skyscrapers and Maglev trains. China is vast and off-the-scale massive, meaning you have a lot of things to catch up to.

You must be familiar with China's greatest engineering triumph and a must-see sight – the Great Wall – which is one of the greatest wonders of the world. It winds up and down across deserts, grasslands, mountains and plateaus. This masterpiece stretches for approximately 8,850 kilometers and has a history of more than 2000 years. It remains one of the most appealing attractions worldwide because of its architectural and historical significance.

READ. OCTOBER 19 - OCTOBER 25, 2014

How do you tell the worst from the best in food

A lifestyle that is always on the go imposes a lot of wrong food habits upon us, which directly affect the physical and psychological health. But with a simple know-how, you can be able to select between the good and between the harmful and most damaging foods. You'll think twice before opting for the regular food stuffs once you find out the health hazards they pose. Let's learn about alternative solutions and least health hazardous forms of food.

Canned Meat

Meat that has a high fat content is one of the most dangerous foods for the body, clogging up arteries and wrecking havoc with the cardiovascular system, but what is worse is preserved meat. Canned meat probably contains the same amount of fat and on top of it, it contains a high percentage of sodium in food preservatives.

Carbonated drinks

Soda is not only the worst choice in beverages but it is the easiest way to add kilos of extra weight to your body in weeks. Each vial contains 10 table-spoons at least of sugar and drinking two bottles of soda a day will increase your blood pressure, sugar and classify you as someone who is sick and unhealthy... therefore you chose the worst.

Ready made meals

A rapid lifestyle does not justify the choice of the frozen meals instead of sandwiches. You turn to the worst due to the amount of chemical preservatives that are added to the frozen meal, practically with the period of validity of the nutrition having ended since the day it was frozen.

4 Doughnuts

Doughnuts are one of the worst sweets, some call it the bomb in dessert choices, because they are full of sugar and trans fat and flour in addition to being deep fried. Practically it's one of the foods that are contributing to the health pollution, and the verdict is when you choose doughnuts you are choosing the worst.

Pavlok wrist band

Solar powered Smartphone

Everybody goes through this very often – draining your phone's battery when out of reach of an electricity source to recharge. And surely, nobody wants to keep on holding a portable charging device, forever, until it is needed. That is just a hassle.

Juse is here to revolutionise the way we charge our phones on the move, wherever you are, whenever in need. This is a solar powered smartphone charger that acts as a phone back cover. It is basically the first perpetually solar-nano phone case. Its back side is made in a way that is fashionable and classy. Most of our new phones "eat" the battery in a matter of a few hours. Juse is available for different models, for android and Apple phones. Wouldn't this be the new environmental friendly solution for charging phones anywhere?

The Pavlok Wristband is a smart band that is different from all others. It uses electric shocks to help you break your bad habits. It sounds painful but it might just be a way for making healthier decisions. This band is different from all the others that monitor your heart beat and physical activity, instead it helps you change your behaviour.

You can be connected to the app that can be easily downloaded, and gives you the option to choose the intensity of the shock. But this raises a question: what kind of habits can it fix? One first thing is for sure; it'll make us get rid of using the snooze button. And here it works as the motivation we need to get out of bed. It can also shock you whenever you walk into McDonald's, help improve the way you play a game, make sure you walk enough daily among other things. So why not try Pavlok wristband trying to making a better and healthier lifestyle!

Watch sized games

In a time where latest smart-phones are getting bigger and bigger in size, handheld games seem to be getting smaller. We've seen different kinds of games in different sizes and shapes. But how about a tiny one?

TinyScreen is a display that measures around the size of your thumb and can be used to play games on. This is part of a project that makes customisable OLED display that measures less than an inch and is used with a TinyDuino processor board that acts as the brain. It can also be turned into a smart watch or to display other things if linked to a smartphone.

If you fancy grabbing a TinyScreen kit to play games, wear it as a smart watch, or just to customise it into another gadget, then you've landed on the right choice.

Edge or Expedition?

When you say Ford, sturdy American designed models that go along well with the lifestyle come to your mind. With innovative technology, it is sometimes hard to decide which model to choose, so how about we take two Ford models and compare them? The iconic Edge and Expedition models are under the radar for this week, so let's embark on a trip to compare and contrast the two:

Engine:

- Twin-engine V6 with capacity 3.5 liters and 3.7 liters.
- The first one: V6 engine 3.5-liter, 285 Hp and 343 Nm of torque. Accelerates from 0 to 100 km/h in just 7.5 seconds and reaches a top speed of 200 km/h.

- Six-speed automatic transmission.

Exterior:

- Sporty, elegant, and comfortable.
- A modern body design that fits different age ranges, and different roads.

Interior:

- The interior of is sporty and youthful.
- Despite the fact that the cabin is not too impressive, it still offers everything the driver needs easily.
- Unlike the Expedition, there is an absence of numerous buttons in the middle of the dashboard.
- A great combination of colours used between white skin and black leather, chrome vaccinations, and a little aluminum.

Engine:

- V8 5.4-liter engine, 300 Hp and 495 Nm of torque.
- Accelerates from 0 to 100 km/h in just 9.5 seconds, and reaches a top speed of 160 km/h.
- Fuel consumption ranges between 16.8 and 17 liters/100 km approx.
- Six-speed transmission.

Exterior:

- Strong and sporty looks adding a sense of adventure.
- Broad and wide front, with sharp lines.
- The rear side is square shaped which gives the car a tougher look.
- Despite the rugged facade, it is a family car excellence.

Interior:

- The cabin is solid and rigid, as it follows the same rhythm and style of the exterior.
- The screen is big and the dashboard contains numerous buttons.
- A combination of different surfaces used between silver, leather, wood, chrome and vaccinations.
- Larger seats, as it can accommodate a larger number of people in the back rows.

The TECHNOLOGICAL felicity

Dubai is fast becoming a tech-savvy place with resident friendly apps and services.

By Wissam Aoun

Dubai Doctors

Smartphone apps have been playing a huge role in today's world. Many apps have been extremely useful, especially health care ones which are preventative such as calorie counters or exercise schedules. Many apps aim to help patients with everything from "instant blood pressure readings" by only using one's phone to help parents conceive a boy or a girl. Not only that, but the Dubai Health Authority has also launched yet another app called Dubai Doctors, which is a service under the umbrella of DHA's smart health services portfolio meant for residents and visitors interested in information about health facilities/professionals available in Dubai.

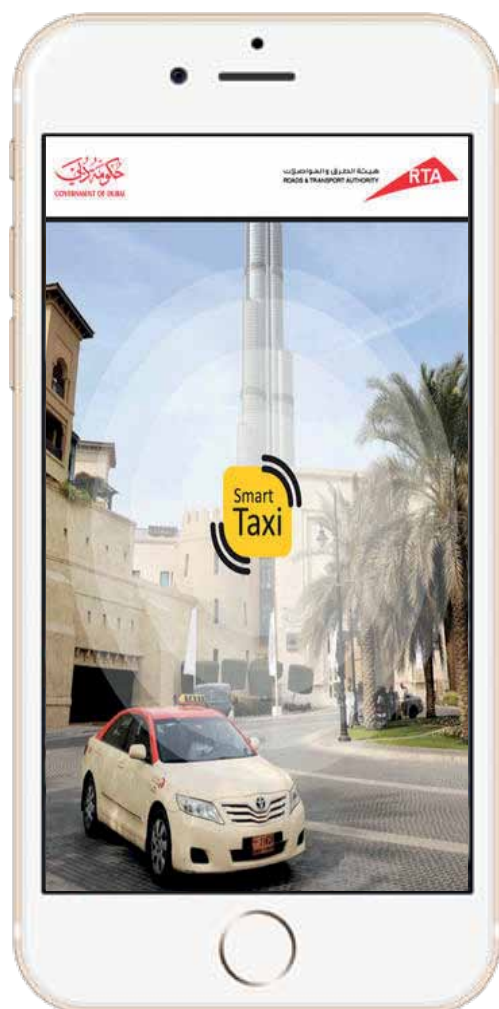

of one kilometer. First Lieutenant Mohamed Ahmad Mohamed al-Marzouqi has stated, "It carries a high-definition camera that can provide live footage to Dubai Police control rooms. The drone can be used to observe any skirmishes in sports matches, as well as securing prisons and monitoring labour dormitories."

Sanad Drone

Another useful technology item, which recently stole the show at Dubai's Gitex week, the police drone dubbed "Sanad", which aims to be the police's "third eye" in crowded areas. The "Sanad" drone was designed and assembled locally and can drive up to one hour at a height

Smart Taxi

RTA has launched another app which is one of the most sophisticated and innovative smart apps. Being the first of its kind, the Smart Taxi app enables customers to book taxis and directly track their movement in a real-time environment, making our journeys more satisfying than ever. Additionally, RTA has launched the "Smart Salik app" which offers customers access to multiple services like allowing them to make a balance inquiry, displaying trips made under Salik Gates for a specific period relating to a specific car. The app also shows you all Salik offences and unpaid tolls.

WiFi access

To make the people of Dubai even happier, the Dubai Municipality launched an exclusive mobile application which allows visitors at Dubai's parks and beaches to access free WiFi connection. Zabeel Park was the first in the country to allow its visitors enjoy free WiFi connection. The director of the IT Department, Mohammed Abdullah Al Zaffin has mentioned, "We understand that there could be thousands of visitors on some days. The speed will be fine for sure." Free WiFi will be available at seventeen sites, including beaches, parks and municipality centres.

SPORT SHORTS

Tennis:

Barry Cowan has stated that Roger Federer is at his finest form and better than he has ever been. Cowan believes that the Swiss is playing the best tennis of his life, especially after winning the Shanghai Masters. "To be a truly great net player you have to accept that you are going to get passed and that you are going to have unproductive spells. Roger gets that now," he said.

Golf:

Rory McIlroy has claimed that he will embrace the pressure as he tries to complete the career Grand Slam at next year's Masters at Augusta. The Northern Irishman has secured his third leg of the career Slam after winning the Open Championship.

"I know there is going to be a lot of hype going into Augusta. The spotlight will be firmly focused on me but I won't mind," he said.

Cricket:

Andrew Flintoff is close to joining Brisbane Heat for the Australian Big Bash T20. The 36-year-old returned to professional cricket in July after about five years in retirement as he helped Lancashire to the final of the T20 Blast.

Heat coach Stuart Law said "We've had discussions and hopefully we will be able to confirm soon."

Gatlin deserves a chance

The chief executive of the United States Anti-Doping Agency, Travis Tygart, admits that athletes who are banned for doping offences deserve another chance. Justin Gatlin has the right to earn redemption after serving two drug bans as he is the world's fastest man in 2014.

"If somebody commits a violation serves a ban and comes back to the sport, part of the rule is this idea of redemption," Tygart declared. Gatlin has been receiving hate ever since returning from his second ban in 2011, however his stunning performance this year has put him in a worse position from many fans and rivals.

Road to victory

Powerful strategies

Anthony Joshua warns his heavyweight rivals after admitting he is still developing his full punching power. The 24-year-old Olympic gold medallist extended his professional record to nine wins after successfully defeating Denis Bakhtov to a halt at London.

Joshua believes he can punch even harder following recent work on his technique in training. "It's going well and I'm putting the work in at the gym and it's paying off on fight night," he said, "I think it's my accuracy more than the power, so I think speed and accuracy is getting me through right now."

Joshua's next fight will be with Michael Sprott on the undercard of Nathan Cleverly's rematch with Tony Bellew on November 22.

Lewis Hamilton has confirmed that he will stay in attack mode despite extending his World Championship lead over Nico Rosberg with his fourth successive victory in the Russian Grand Prix. The Englishman widened the gap to 17 points ahead of Rosberg after winning at Sochi.

"I like to think I am still growing as a driver, moulding and improving in some areas," he said, "I will improve for these final races and keep turning up the heat."

Three races are yet remaining and will take place in the United States, Brazil, and Abu Dhabi, which leaves the Championship title open for Rosberg as well.

Time is key

Sir Alex Ferguson has claimed that the Dutch manager Louis van Gaal will get things right at the English club if he is given time. Van Gaal's start with Manchester United has been some sort of a mix as he lost three of his first eight games. The red devils have managed to make it up to 4th place after their victory over Queens Park Rangers and Everton.

Ferguson has compared Louis's start at Old Trafford to his own time with the club as he states "He's not been getting the results that are expected but when I came to the club I didn't get the results I expected myself at the beginning."

Common WEAKNESSES of EMPLOYEES

A healthy working environment leads to reduced weaknesses among employees.

A weakness is a job competency in which the employee has basic or no skills. That may be the result of lack of guidance, experience or even interest. Weaknesses often appear when you begin to consider promoting an employee. For example, if a sales person wants to be promoted to the next level, the development plan may find that he has a weakness in time management, and so developing this competency may be included in his professional development plan. Managing weaknesses can be challenging as employees come with different attitudes, career goals and backgrounds. If you only have two employees to manage, well it's certainly easier than managing hundreds of employees. Whatever might be the case, your ultimate goal is to bring out the most of each and every employee in order to meet your business objectives. Akhtaboot is here to highlight the most common employee weaknesses that you need to resolve in order to direct your company toward efficiency and success.

Poor teamwork

Many managers and employees find it hard to switch from working individually to working within a team. That's why a company should develop a teamwork environment with the full cooperation and involvement of all employees. While team members are often chosen based on individual skills, putting together the perfect team does not automatically ensure success. Teams fail for a variety of reasons including vague roles, poor time management, and lack of common vision.

Attitude problems

We've all faced a negative work colleague or a depressing work environment at some point. It is also very possible that the manager is the source of negativity at work. Having a negative work attitude can definitely affect the morale and productivity of your employees. Instead of falling prey to the negative work attitudes that surround you, make an effort to break the trend. Start by observing how your employees treat each other and don't tolerate sarcasm, office politics and negative behaviours.

Lack of initiative

An employee who lacks initiative will miss out on valuable opportunities while reducing the productivity and effectiveness of your team. Combating an employee's lack of initiative depends on the nature of the problem, but generally, publicly rewarding risk-takers encourages employees to think outside the box and take chances. But you need to create a balance. Don't push employees to make impulsive choices that endanger the success of your business. Rather, encourage analytical thinking and responsible behavior.

Poor communication skills

While some employees are naturally gifted when it comes to communication skills, others need to work on it in order to be perceived as potential leaders. Poor communication skills among employees will hurt company operations. Unfortunately, employees tend to put more energy on developing their technical proficiency than they do their communication skills. The best way to improve communication skills of your team is to try different communication styles and approaches. Once you have a clear picture of what works and what doesn't, significant improvements can result.

Lack of creativity

Many companies are finding that employees are becoming demotivated due to a process-driven culture that focuses too much on managing email traffic and attending internal meetings. This has resulted in employees struggling to work on any creative ideas. If you want your team to be more creative, you need give them the permission to break out of the box and even fail sometimes. If you respond to setbacks and unsuccessful ideas with despair or blame, the team will get discouraged. However, when you turn difficulties and challenges into a learning experience, you shape the attitude of your team. Create a culture of creative confidence, which is the ability to come up with new ideas and the courage to try them out.

Matt Damon, Ben Affleck together for a series

Friends Matt Damon and Ben Affleck are teaming up for a futuristic espionage TV series. Incorporated is the series that is set in the future and based in the corporate world and shows one man's fight against the system. The thriller series will be under the CBS Television Studios umbrella and penned down by brothers David and Alex Pastor.

Robert Downey Jr to return as Iron Man in Captain America 3

Robert Downey Jr will return as superhero Iron Man for the Marvel's upcoming Captain America 3. Robert had been dropping hints that he had no plans of making the fourth Iron Man movie, but now, according to reports, the actor will be appearing in Captain America 3. The film will be directed by Joe and Anthony Russo, the brother duo who also directed Captain America: The Winter Soldier.

Amanda Bynes caught shoplifting in NYC

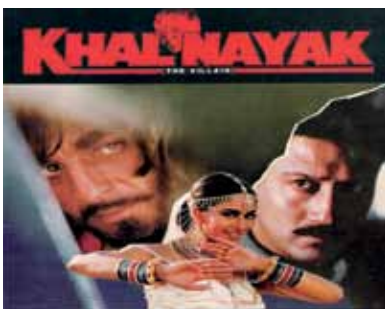

A lot of celebrities have been caught shoplifting, and the newest to join the group is actress Amanda Bynes, who was caught shoplifting in a New York store. According to reports, the actress was caught stealing a $200 hat from the store, but was caught by security. The actress gave different statements when caught by the security, once claiming that she had to leave the store to look for her driver, and later, she said that she had to rush out of the store to avoid an excited fan and hadn't intended to steal the hat.

Reese Witherspoon lauds Malala Yousafzai

While accepting an award for her philanthropic efforts with the Malala Fund, Oscar winning actress Reese Witherspoon exclaimed how her daughter was in awe of the youngest Nobel Peace Prize winner Malala Yousafzai from Pakistan. She shared with the audience her experience of meeting the young activist along with her daughter Ava, 15. "This summer, we got to meet Malala ... Ava and I," she said, "We got to have dinner with her at a friend's house, which was incredible. She sat next to Ava at dinner and they talked about schoolwork and homework and what their life goals were, and Ava was just in awe of this 17-year-old woman."

Bollywood news

Sanjay Leela Bhansali in talks to remake Khalnayak

Sanjay Leela Bhansali has reportedly approached Subhash Ghai to direct his remake of Khalnayak. Subhash Ghai had announced last year that he will be remaking the 1993 blockbuster in a way that is more suited to today's audience. And now, according to sources, the two are in talks to achieve that end. A source said, "Bhansali has proposed a collaboration between his production house and Ghai's banner Mukta Arts. The meeting took place in Ghai's house and he is not averse to the idea."

RGV in legal trouble with Sridevi

Sridevi has sent a legal notice to director and producer Ram Gopal Verma for using her name as the title of an upcoming film Sridevi. The film had previously been named Savitri and later changed to Sridevi, and when Sridevi and husband Boney Kapoor tried to contact RGV, he never gave an explanation. Sridevi hadn't given her consent to use her name as the title of the film, and her lawyers have said it is a violation of privacy as she has no control over the content of the film. Sridevi has demanded the filmmaker to issue an unconditional apology, change the film's title refraining from using her images, likeness, persona and other attributes failing which she'll be forced to initiate legal proceedings.

"Ritesh messaged me, 'Are you still acting?' I shot back, 'Once an actor, always an actor.' My role is that of a no-nonsense woman which is pretty much me. She appears in the film just before the interval and stays till the end."

Rajkumar Hirani choreographs for PK

For his upcoming film PK, Rajkumar Hirani has turned choreographer for one of the most anticipated songs. The filmmaker wanted to have a non-film choreographer for the song Basco-Cesar and auditioned endless people for the purpose, but nobody impressed him. From French artists to artists from across India, nobody struck a chord with Rajkumar. Even his cast and crew tried their hands at the job including Anushka Sharma and Aamir Khan's wife Kiran Rao, but to no avail. Finally, the director himself created an innovative signature move for the song and choreographed the entire song.

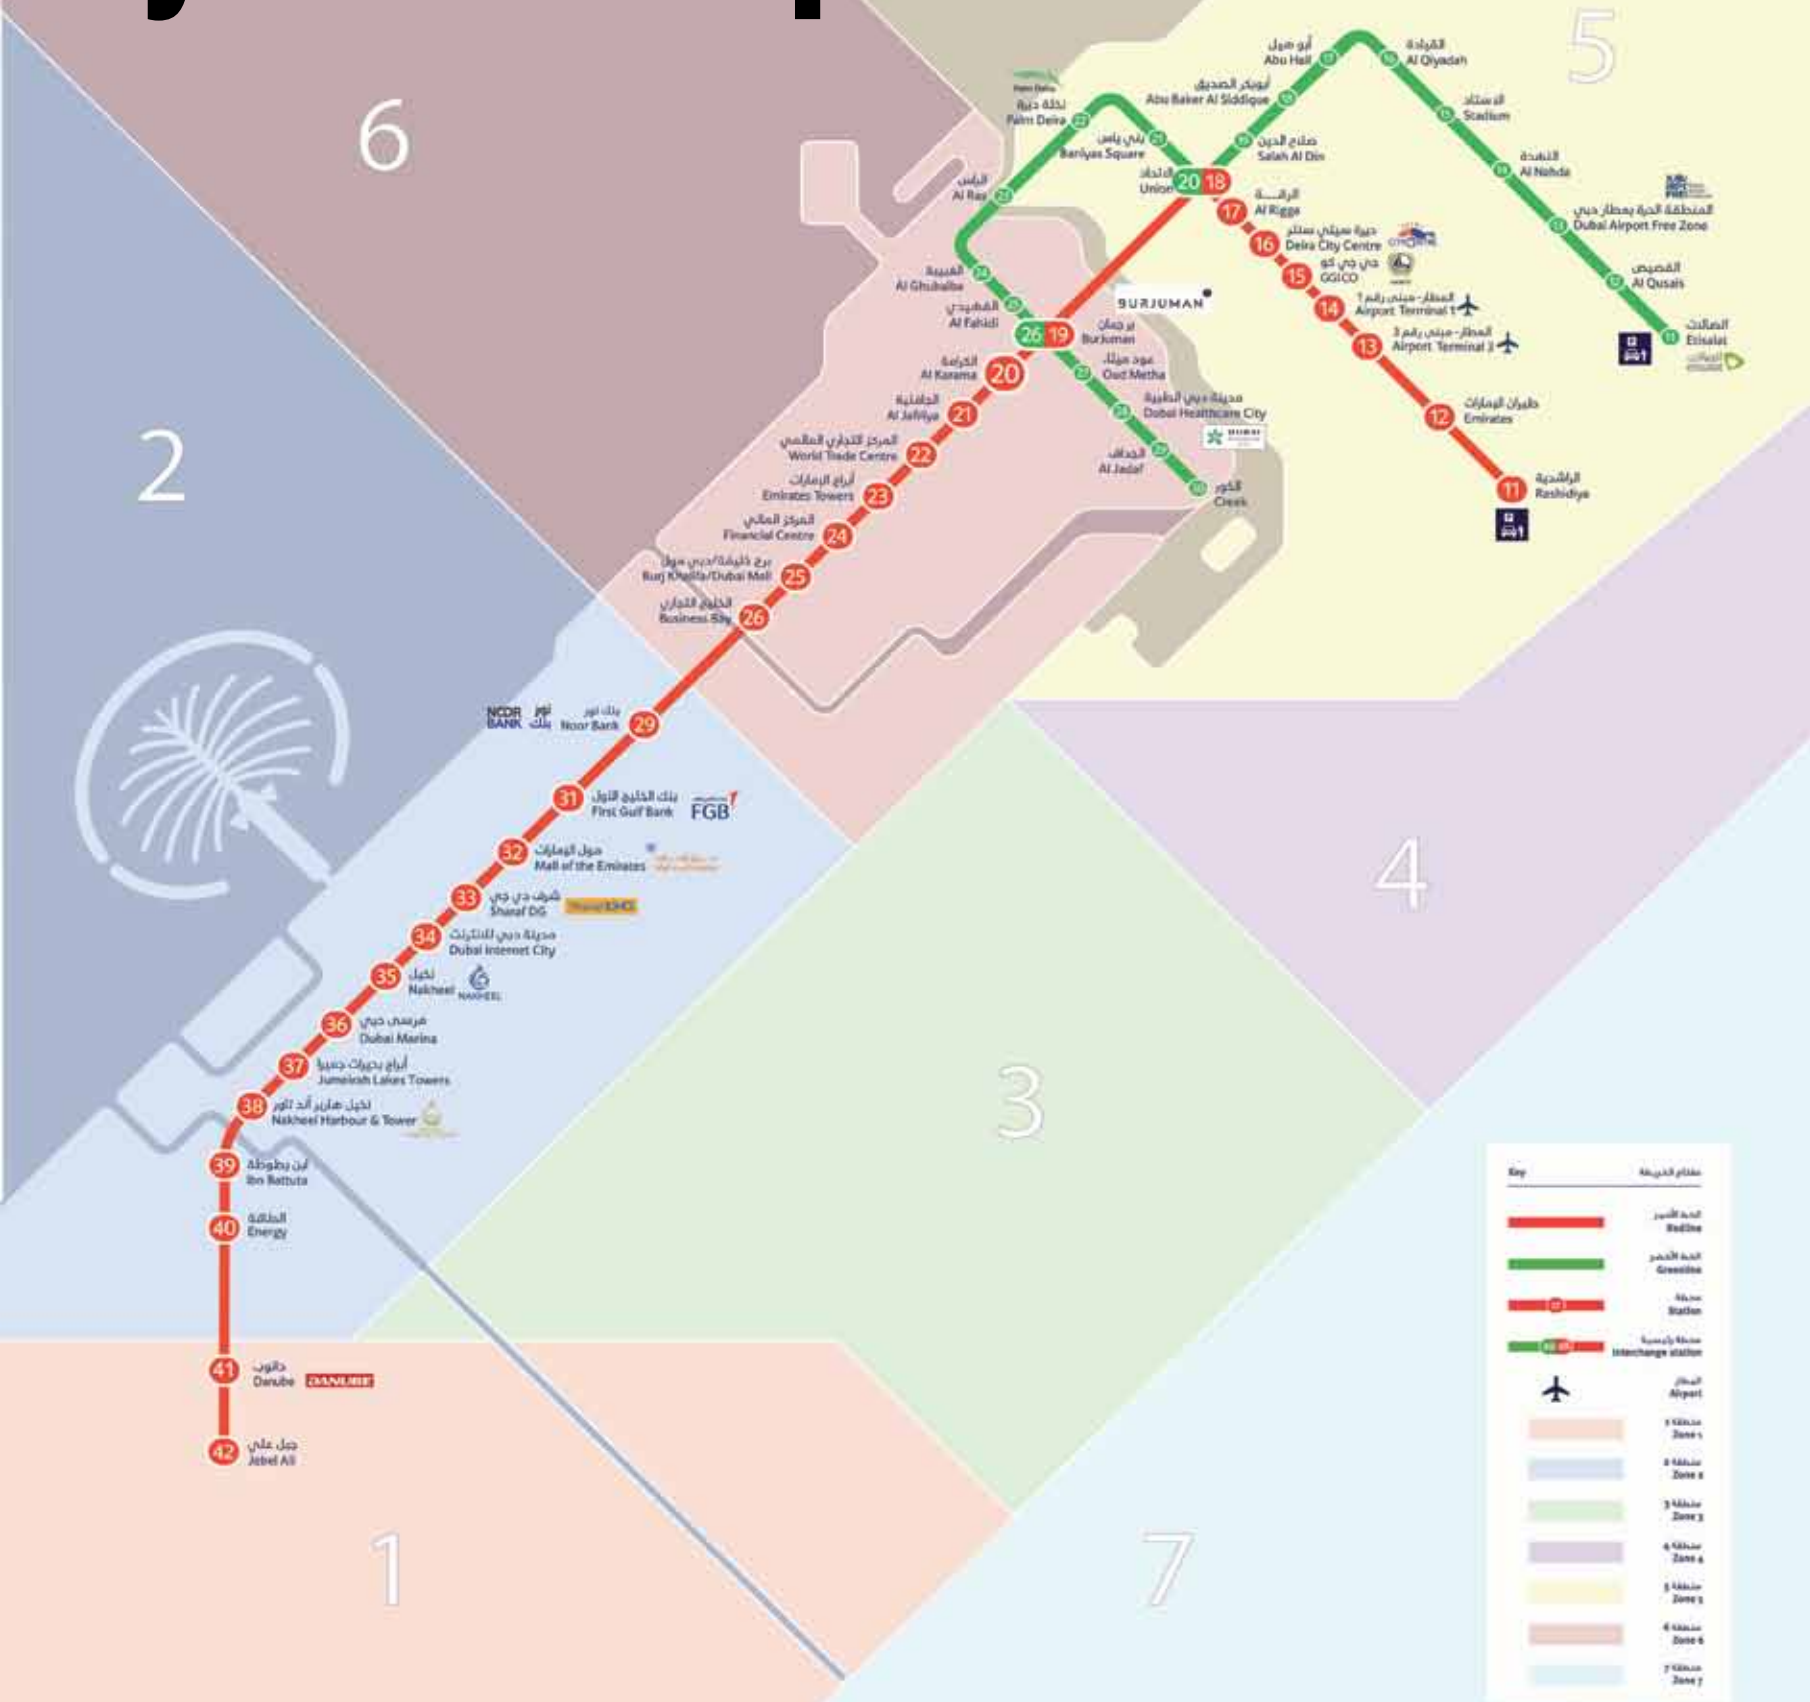

Pooja Bhatt to make a comeback as a detective

After a self-imposed 13-year hibernation, Pooja Bhatt will make a comeback in Reema Kagti's romcom Mr Chaalu, playing a detective. The producers Ritesh Sidhwani and Farhan Akhtar were contemplating Tabu for the role, but settled for Pooja Bhatt as she was "better suited" for the role. The film will feature Saif Ali Khan in the lead, playing a Casanova and Kangana Ranaut as his leading lady. Pooja confirmed the news and said,

"Ritesh messaged me, 'Are you still acting?' I shot back, 'Once an actor, always an actor.' My role is that of a no-nonsense woman which is pretty much me. She appears in the film just before the interval and stays till the end."

RTA launches smart service for detecting vacant parking

Unique smartphone app service will tentatively be available for use by motorist users on Sheikh Zayed Road in direction headed towards Abu Dhabi.

PROJECTS

As part of its participation in Gitex Technology Week 2014, the Roads and Transport Authority (RTA) exhibited technological updates relating to detecting vacant parking slots in Dubai through a smartphone app.

Updates for the RTA smart parking app are accessible through Google Play and Apple Store platforms in implementation of the directives of HH Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice President and Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai, to transform Dubai into the smartest city in the world within three years.

The app, which conforms to the approach mapped out in the Hamdan Bin Mohammed Smart Government Program, will tentatively be applied to the service road of Sheikh Zayed road.

Engineer Maitha Bin Udai, CEO of RTA Traffic & Roads Agency, said: "Gitex is considered an important platform as it attracts huge attention of the public seeking to know sophisticated services that help make life smoother and more enjoyable. The latest updates of the smart parking app epitomise strategic goals sought by the RTA, particularly as parking has become a key element of daily life in Dubai."

About the experimental implementation of the app, Udai said: "The app will tentatively be operational in the Abu Dhabi-bound direction of Sheikh Zayed Road. Other phases will follow later on. Parking spaces have been fitted with e-sensors that feed data to control centres of the smart system about the condition of the parking slots in the intended areas; a process that is handled automatically where deliverables are displayed in a way that enriches the experience of the smart parking app users."

"The recent update brings about a host of important benefits such as enabling the motorist to detect vacant parking slots in advance; which saves much time and effort, besides reducing congestion. Thus it is now possible to locate a vacant parking slot easily in the intended area together with the number of vacant parking slots in the area, and the distance between the vehicle and the nearest vacant parking space," added Udai.

Engineer Adel Al Marzooki, Director of Parking, RTA Traffic and Roads Agency, said: "Updates of the smart parking app help the user identify the timings of paid parking zones and pay the parking fees directly through the app, besides the GPS feature; which enables the user to memorise the place where his or her vehicle had been parked in case of forgetting it.

"The app also helps the user figure out the number of vacant parking slots in the multi-level parking terminals of the RTA, besides benefiting from the features relating to the smart parking app in Dubai; which will contribute to the realisation of the RTA's vision of providing safe and smooth transport for all," said Al Marzooki.

What's in your stars?

The Read. astrologer tells you what you can expect over the next seven days.

ARIES

(MAR 21 - APR 20)

Your go-getter energy's at odds with the stuff coming from the stars. Take a passive approach and don't worry, because this week brings opportunities for all sorts of pioneering, and even passion! You're extra-convincing now work that additional charm!

TAURUS

(APR 21 - MAY 21)

Fun times and affectionate friends are in your stars. Don't work late, and don't wait for the weekend! Around Thursday and Friday, your health matters even more than usual. Yes, you'll want to work out, but you don't want an injury from overdoing it.

GEMINI

(MAY 22 - JUN 21)

Check in with your mentor, your mom or other VIPs in your life. The stars say somebody's got a piece of very useful advice for you; getting it may hinge on asking the right questions though. Take a certain someone to a lecture, or if you're single, hit the galleries.

CANCER

(JUN 22 - JUL 23)

Your domestic side's in full effect. Don't be surprised if you go into an out-of-season spring-cleaning frenzy at home, reorganize your workspace in helpful new ways or even spend lots of time cleaning out your inbox. Work toward common ground with someone.

LEO

(JUL 24 - AUG 23)

You're less extravagant and less extroverted than usual. It's an excellent state for saving and sorting through things. Give a certain plan a necessary update now. Friends and fun and fabulousness are back with a vengeance, and hotter, sweeter stuff's in the stars, too.

VIRGO

(AUG 24 - SEP 23)

You're getting plenty of gold stars if the stars have their way. Good effort expended at work, on relationships or toward your community is more than its own reward, enjoy the sweet stuff! You're either acting on impulse or over thinking something — or doing a bit of both.

LIBRA

(SEP 24 - OCT 23)

Schedule one-on-ones, at work and personally; your listening ear and excellent perception make you an extremely valuable partner now. Find a way to jog your own memory, too. Partnerships of the more amorous variety are in the stars! If you're coupled up, plan an amazing date.

SCORPIO

(OCT 24 - NOV 22)

You're a person with a plan or at least should be. Preparation, far from a waste of energy, is time well spent! A certain choice may have you throwing your hands up in the air; it may be a big deal. Try quieting your headspace and your actual space, and let your feelings well up from inside.

SAGITTARIUS

(NOV 23 - DEC 21)

Your boss may be on the opposite of your greatest-hits list at the beginning of the week — and if a significant other, friend or your mother is acting bossy, you're not loving them right now, either. Use a little tact; this, too, shall pass, so let it do that without any lasting damage.

CAPRICORN

(DEC 22 - JAN 20)

If there are facts to be found, you do the digging and very likely enjoy the process as much as the results. Don't bet the farm or up the ante without some serious risk assessment. At work and in your personal life, the status quo might be best for the moment.

AQUARIUS

(JAN 21 - FEB 19)

People may be insisting that they understand what you're saying, but if you're still skeptical, heed your instincts. Your attitude determines your altitude; the latter can be up sky-high and have you all starry-eyed if you purposely make the former warmer.

PISCES

(FEB 20 - MAR 20)

You're usually so accepting, but as the week begins, you're looking at everyone and everything with a very critical eye. It's a good thing and likely to be very productive Money's likely to be a big deal around and you should be neither a borrower nor a lender.
