Poem of the week

Twisted Trees

By Michael Faudet

A fearsome wind cannot compel
 the weakest branch
 to gladly yield.

Yet,
 the faintest breath
 upon your lips –
 and I have fallen against my will

It's important to select the right stache for your face. So here is a simple guide to make sure you have the perfect stache for Movember. So we are calling all the gents to BE BOLD, BE BRAVE, BE HAIRY!

Triangular

Triangular-shaped faces are usually indicated by having pointed chins and a broad jaw line. In order to remove the narrowness of the chin, you'll want to have a fuller beard filling in the lower half (just below the cheekbones) so as to add more masculinity by adding weight along the jaw line and chin.

Long

Having a long face shape requires a beard which is fuller at the sides and shorter at the chin. The best way to give a shorter face form is to add width to the sides and make the face appear less long.

Rectangular

If you have this face shape, a beard is one facial hair style that can balance out your features by visually shortening the length of your face while creating the illusion that of an oval face. Rounding out the right angles is crucial to soften rectangularity.

Square

The beard for a square face should be shorter at the sides and longer at the chin to add length to the face. A goatee is also a good option for men with this type of face shape.

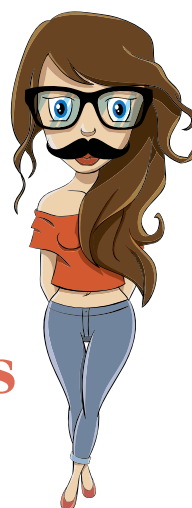

What is Movember?

Back in 2003 a group in Melbourne, Australia created an event where men grew a moustache for 30 days in order to raise awareness for prostate cancer. This group was known later on as 'The Movember Foundation'.

Mo Bros

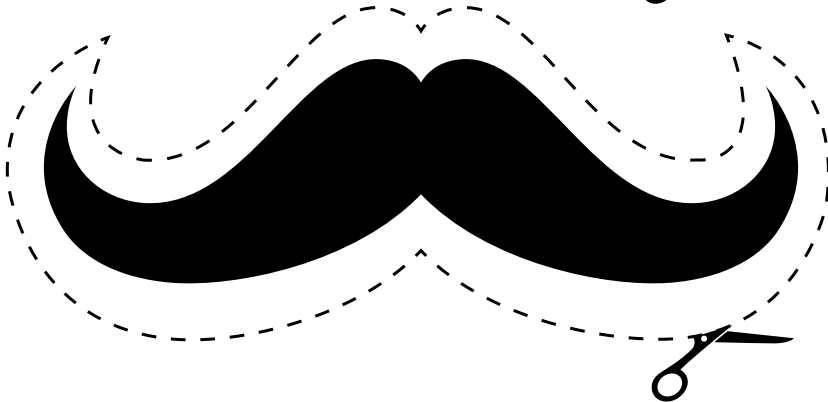

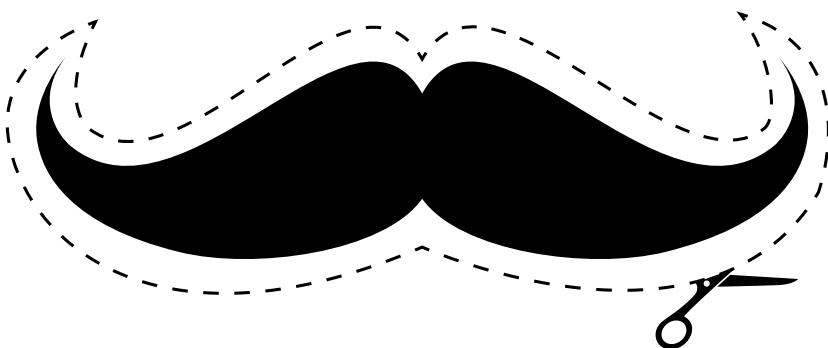

Someone that takes part in Movember.

Mo Sistas

A woman that loves a 'mo and supports Movember.

Ladies and young men (who are not able to grow a 'mo yet), you can sport a 'mo to show your support. Simply cut out the one below. Directions: Pick your fave stache. 2. Cut it out. 3. Tape it onto a pencil or stick. 4. Hold up your stache to your face. 5. Take a selfie and hashtag #isupportmovember

Work-life balance as a PERK

Improve the work-life balance of your own employees

There is a new norm emerging; a subtle shift towards more work-life balance which can be easily overlooked by many conservative companies. For many professionals, the challenge is often related to explicit or implicit expectations to spend long hours in the office. The majority desire more flexibility in their jobs, yet very few have it, either because such programs are not offered or because they fear the stigma associated with wanting such benefits. If your company works in an industry that might benefit from offering work-life balance perks, why not consider introducing it? You can still set your own policies and procedures. Akhtaboot is here to highlight the top perks that your company can offer to improve the work-life balance of your own employees.

Flexible Working Hours

When it comes to building a successful career, hard work is the answer. But on the other hand, hard work can go unnoticed if you don't know how to communicate your accomplishments. Most employees think they have only two choices when it comes to self-promotion; remaining under the table or sounding arrogant, but neither works! Good self-promoters know this: they're always planting seeds for the future. They understand that doing a good job doesn't mean that others will actually realise it.

Telecommuting

Telecommuting is an option that allows employees to work from home while taking care of their household-related issues. Organizations should not shy away from alternative work arrangements because it gives employees the opportunity to schedule necessary needs around their work. Telecommuting eliminates any wasted time caused by commuting and reduces transportation costs.

Job Sharing

Since not all jobs require a full time employee; job sharing might be a good idea to promote work-life balance. Job sharing is when two professionals form a partnership in order to perform one job. Think about what would transpire from a company that implements job sharing at the office. Consider the combination of skills and talent that would result from hiring two for one job. With the appropriate implementation of course, job sharing works perfectly for employees who need to balance between their life at home and life at the office.

Leisure Management

Leisure management is one of the most overlooked essential factors in work-life balance. Time off is a vital component in a employees life because it promotes job satisfaction and better performance. Once a worker manages and organizes their vacation days, they are prone to feel more refreshed, focused and less stressed and this will result in better focus on other important factors in their daily lives.

Work-life balance is a state of well-being that an employee can reach or set as a goal, allowing him to successfully manage responsibilities that range from physical to mental needs. Work-life balance should be attained through the work place and through the support of one's employer. Supportive managers are a key factor for achieving work-life balance because by helping employees manage their time, they allow the fostering of loyalty, mutual respect and a positive work environment.

HEALTH COLUMN

Dr. Moamen Amin Abdelrahim
The Consultant of Urology
Zulekha Hospital Dubai.

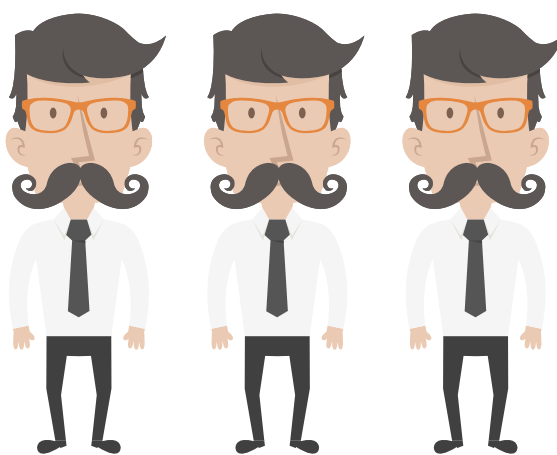

Prostate cancer

Prostate cancer is the most common cancer in men after skin cancer even though it carries lower mortality than lung and colon cancer. The incidence and mortality are variable, based on the ethnicity and environmental factor where it reaches 272 per 100,000 men in North America and Scandinavia but as low as 1.9 in Asia; the mortality is also different where it reaches 23 per 100,000 in Sweden but less than 5 in Asia. The peak incidence occurs between the ages of 70 and 74 years, with 85% diagnosed after the age of 65 years, less than 0.1% below 50 years. Aging, genetic and family history of prostate cancer are the most evident risks for prostate cancer while smoking, alcohol consumption, fatty diet and infection of prostate are low evident risks. On the other hand fish diet (containing omega 3 fatty acids) may protect against prostate cancer.

The question about screening of prostate cancer for asymptomatic men for early diagnosis and treatment is still debatable but it is highly recommended to do screening for high risk men with family history of prostate cancer. The routine screening for men 50 years or above using blood test called prostatic specific antigen and digital rectal examination in the clinic. The treatment is either by surgery, radiotherapy or tumour ablation for localised prostate cancer, hormonal or chemotherapy for metastatic disease.

Prostate cancer AWARENESS

As we celebrate the month of Movember or No-Shave-November, let us all remember that it is all about raising awareness for prostate cancer which is a common disease for men. Sit down with Read and let us share with you some basic knowledge in regards to prostate cancer.

1 in 6 men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer during his lifetime

Based on statistics the occurrence of this happening in America is higher compared to that in Asia. New research shows that this percentage is gradually increasing in Asian countries but are around one-third lower compared to Asian-American cohorts, which themselves have lower rates than American cohorts.

Prostate cancer occurs mainly in older men

Prostate cancer is very rare in men younger than 40. The chance of having prostate cancer rises rapidly after the age of 50. Almost 2 out of 3 prostate cancers are found in men over the age of 65.

Role of diet in prostate cancer

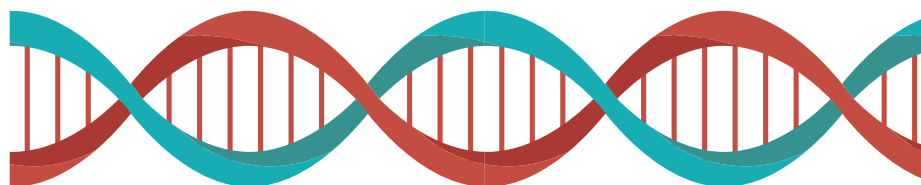

It is not clear as to what the exact role of diet is in prostate cancer but several factors have been studied. Men who eat a lot of red meat or high-fat dairy products tend to have a higher percentage in getting prostate cancer. It is good advice to stick to fish, fruits and vegetables and cut down on meat and dairy.

Family History & Genetics

Studies show that you are more likely to acquire prostate cancer if a family member has been diagnosed with it before compared to a man who has no affected relatives.

Importance of screening

Prevention is better than cure and better yet early detection. Men should consider getting rectal examination and PSA test every year or every other year.

- Erectile dysfunction
- Body pain
- Fatigue or loss of weight and appetite

Oh my MAMA!

It is always a great moment when a woman bears her child. There is just something –and I think guys will agree– sexy about a woman and a baby bump. Who says that you can't look beautiful and stylish while sporting a bump? These top celebrities show us just how.

Former 'Gossip Girl' star Blake Lively, looked absolutely elegant and glowing in her Michael Kors tulle gown during the 2014 Golden Hearts Awards. The stretchy material embedded with lavender and baby pink flowers is the perfect gown to wear for a mother-to-be.

Alicia Keys proudly showed off her baby bump during the Keep a Child Alive 2014 Black Ball. The co-founder of the said foundation wore a black satin off-the-shoulder, empire-waist Givenchy couture gown with shimmering silver straps, custom made by Riccardo Tisci

Pregnancy certainly suits Kristin Bell as the 34-year-old actress displayed her growing baby bump in a clinging black dress from Dsquared2 while attending the Los Angeles premiere of 'The Judge'.

Kelly Rowland proudly flaunts her baby bump on the red carpet during the 2014 MTV VMA's. The singer and actress wore a nude metallic halter dress from Kaufman Franco which radiated simple elegance..

Zoe Saldana goes all pink during 'The Book of Life' Los Angeles premiere. The flowy pink dress from Altuzarra definitely showed off her bump and portrayed a glowing look from the actress.

COLOMBIA:

A vision of the past

Rich in history and culture, Colombia boasts all of South America's allure and more.

By Wissam Aoun

Have you been feeling stressed lately? Or maybe you're just keen to escape on an enlivening adventure. Either way, there's a place somewhere out there waiting for you. Colombia is home to a traumatic but rich history. And due to its stunning scenery and some of the continent's most welcoming and sophisticated people, Colombia should, by all rights be one of the world's top travel destinations. This beautiful country offers a variety of ecosystems, from the Amazon rainforest to the snowcapped mountains, all the way to its paradise of white sandy beaches.

Let's get started on our adventure by visiting the Botero Museum, which is one of Bogota's great intrigues and biggest attractions. This museum offers its visitors an art collection of rare quality, as it proceeds chronologically, with every room another step forward in time. The Botero Museum houses the work of Colombia's most famous artist Fernando Botero who donated 208 works, 123 of his own and 85 by other international artists. His fantastic work of art, spans from the mid-19th century until the end of the 20th century. The great collection of his satirical and humorous work is displayed throughout the museum, which houses a gorgeous courtyard and antiques.

You should definitely add visiting San Gil on your to do list if you're up for a challenge, or simply a sporting enthusiast. San Gil is best known for white-water rafting, or paragliding caving, rappelling and trekking. Once you visit, you might consider extending your stay after discovering a wonderful city of natural beauty and friendly residents. This area might as well be the land of the adventure. Get your adrenaline flowing with extreme sports for all levels, by enjoying the fabulous natural pools and waterfalls, turbulent rivers and mysterious cave formations.

After all this strolling, you are bound to get hungry. Fortunately, Colombians are blessed with an exquisite cuisine. The country is packed with exciting restaurants, from coastal Caribbean cevicherias to incredible steakhouses. However, make sure you don't miss La Vitrola, which is a perfectly lit and well furnished restaurant. This 400 year old colonial home became a famous seafood restaurant. Do your mouth a favor and don't miss out on what could be the tastiest seafood you'll ever eat.

The best of the BEST in DUBAI

Come and experience Italian cuisine at its finest.

By Mae Cabigas

Oh mama mia! Pizza! Pepperoni! Pasta!

We're pretty sure you know what we're talking about; and why not when these are the key words that we think of when we say 'Italian Cuisine'. But besides that, do you not want to know more about your favorite food? Fear not as food lovers all over Dubai and the nearby Emirates will be given a chance to experience quality Italian food like no other.

Mark your calendars as The Italian Cuisine World Summit has once again chosen Dubai to host their 6th edition after the smashing success of the 5th edition that took place in 2003. From November 7 until the 20th, various activities and expos would be taking place all around Dubai to promote and educate people about the traditional Italian cuisine. In order to ensure this, the Summit has invited various Michelin-star chefs to come and cook in some of the upscale Italian restaurants located around Dubai like Vivaldi, Casa Mia, Bice Mare and Alta Badia to name some.

One of the key events during the Summit is The Piazza Grande Food

Show which will be taking place on November 14 and 15. A two day all Italian experience that promotes not only the exquisite taste of Italy but also the family oriented culture of the country. In these two days, families, friends and pets are invited to come and spend quality time with each other while enjoying the aroma that will test their taste buds.

According to Rosario Scarpanto, the organiser of the Italian Cuisine World Summit, "We want to welcome food lovers, families and friends to come and celebrate authentic Italian cuisine."

Italian chefs would also be present to show audiences how the delicacies are made. It's a mouth-watering event that will have you looking forward to the weekend, from freshly made pasta to gelatos and Tuscan grilled meat.

If you're interested to see the Michelin-Star chefs in all their glory, foodies can head over to Eataly in Dubai Mall where you will be able to observe their cooking skills and possibly interact with them. And if you really want to get into the heart of Italian cuisine, you can enrol

Italy. With this the Summit would also be presenting the awards in Professional Italian Cooking Certificate of Proficiency which is a special course that culinary professionals can take to develop their skills in Italian cuisine.

Another awarding ceremony would be for the Italian White Truffle Expert Certificate which is the first proficiency certificate of its kind in the world.

With all this happening in Dubai you won’t feel the need to leave for a unique Italian experience. So you can put back your passports and hide those travel pamphlets and get your taste buds ready for a pure gastronomical experience.

Football:

The 2022 World Cup, which will be held in Qatar, will most likely take place in winter, despite concerns of it interfering with domestic leagues. It was identified that it would either be in January and February or November and December 2022. FIFA was asked to consider May as an alternative, despite the heat affecting players and supporters.

Cricket:

James Anderson will miss England's one-day series as they face Sri Lanka later this month. The Lancashire seamer has not yet fully recovered from a knee injury he suffered earlier this season, and hopes to be fit for the tri-series against Australia and India in January and the ICC Cricket World Cup in February.

Basketball:

The Miami Heat have maintained hope despite the departure of LeBron James, as they recorded a third straight win to start the NBA season. Chris Bosh managed to get 21 points and 11 rebounds in the 107-102 victory over the Toronto Raptors, leaving Heat as the Eastern Conference's last unbeaten team.

Glasgow bids for European Indoors

Glasgow is aiming to bring the European Indoor Athletics Championship to Scotland in 2019. The Emirates Arena expects to be UK Athletic's sole nominee. This venue also previously hosted badminton and cycling at the 2014 Commonwealth Games and will later stage the International Invitation match in January. Glasgow is also hoping to host the 2016 Olympic swimming trials and the 2017 figure skating World Championships. The bidding process was opened by European Athletics in September for a range of events to be held between 2017 and 2020.

Closing in

Lewis Hamilton is closing in on the 2014 Formula 1 world championship and it seems like only poor reliability or bad luck can stop him from accomplishing that. The Englishman triumphed in the US Grand Prix, making it his 10th victory of the season and allowing him to have a 24-point lead over Mercedes team-mate Nico Rosberg. The two Mercedes team-mates should be expected to finish one-two in the upcoming two races in Brazil and Abu Dhabi. Even though the Abu Dhabi GP offers double points, Hamilton can come in second place to Rosberg in both races and still win the championship.

Back in place

West Indies will take part at the World Cup next year despite the problem of their withdrawal from the tour of India, organisers have claimed. India's cricket board suspended all future tours with West Indies and took legal action. Chief executive of the World Cup John Harnden has said that there was a contingency plan in place for a West Indies no-show but doubted it would be needed. "We see that everyone's very focused on resolving the situation as quickly as possible. I have no doubt the West Indies will be here and entertaining the crowd as only they know how," he said. The world cup will start from February 14 and end in March 29, with West Indies scheduled to open their campaign facing Ireland on February 16.

Astonishing outcome

Bayern Munich have pushed through to the knockout stages of the Champions League after beating Roma with two goals to nothing, where Frank Ribery and Mario Gotze managed to score. Manchester City could be facing early elimination from the Champions League after losing 2-1 to CSKA Moscow, forcing them to the bottom of Group E with two games to go.

Chelsea manager Jose Mourinho has criticised his players after they were held to a 1-1 draw by Maribor, where Nemanja Matic scored the equaliser before Eden Hazard missed a penalty. Lionel Messi scored twice against Ajax to equal a record with Raul's all-time Champions League of 71 goals.

A clash of masters

Tiger Woods has only just recovered from back surgery a couple of months ago, and thought he was making small progress. However, the 38-year-old had suffered a scary setback when he felt pain in his back and withdrew from the Bridgestone invitational.

Woods seemed like he was struggling to take off his golf shoes before he left, with his future left uncertain. The American injured himself playing a shot from edge of a bunker as he had all his weight on his right leg and awkwardly slashed the ball.

"I just jarred it, and it's been spasming ever since," Woods said. "It's just the whole lower back, I don't know what happened." However, the Golf legend lastly claimed that he was pain free as he participated in the US PGA Championship at Valhalla. The 14-time major champion still needs to build up strength and be well treated to secure his career.

Tawasol: stepping forward

When it comes to technology, everything seems to be promptly grabbing people's attention despite knowing what it's all about. Living in a technological era, we desire the things that come in handy, and what could possibly be more user-friendly than a leading app development, digital strategy and software firm in the MENA region called "Tawasol".

Dr. Osama Moustafa, CEO of Tawasol who is considered as one of the most experienced entrepreneurs in mobile app development, sheds some light on what Tawasol is all about saying "Tawasol is a leading digital strategy and software firm, specialized in developing cutting-edge, customized mobile applications that support our clients' business needs. We work closely with our clients to truly understand their individual business context and requirements – and then deliver outstanding solutions, on time and on budget."

Asked how it started and how it grew bigger, Dr. Osama claims "Established in Egypt in 2007, we've grown rapidly and established full service branches in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, the UAE, Bahrain, the USA, UK and Spain with more offices set to open over the coming years to serve the unique needs of each market."

Moving on, he was asked how Tawasol would establish new connections in the growing projects here and internationally, thus responded "We already have a very solid base of clients and partners, we've done great business for our clients and with word of mouth we always have the pleasure to work with new clients. On the other hand we believe that our partners are very important for our expansion. Our partnership with Kuwaiti firm Impulse Int'l will allow us to go further in serving the Arab youth and supporting them to make functioning and rewarding applications. also on the international level we have offices in UK, USA, and Spain, and more to come."

BIG HERO 6

HORNS

THE SHAUKEENS

A collection of SCARCE magnificence

Three of only 35 Rolls-Royce Bespoke Waterspeed Phantom Drophead Coupés, which are part of a limited collection of exceptional cars that celebrate Sir Malcolm Campbell's historic and seminal act of British daring and endeavour more than 70 years ago, have arrived in the UAE.

On September 1st 1937, Sir Campbell headed out onto the calm blue waters of Lake Maggiore on the Swiss-Italian frontier to establish his legend as he set the world waterspeed record of 126.32 mph in a Rolls-Royce-powered Bluebird K3 hydroplane boat. The eye-catching beautiful Waterspeed Collection pays homage to this momentous achievement, which not only captured the world's attention, but also reaffirmed the Rolls-Royce R-Type engines' record-breaking superiority after triumphs on land and air.

Showcasing the very best of the Rolls-Royce Bespoke programme, the Phantom Drophead Coupé Waterspeed Collection features a number of exquisitely designed and crafted personalised features.

A futuristic fantasy emerges as reality

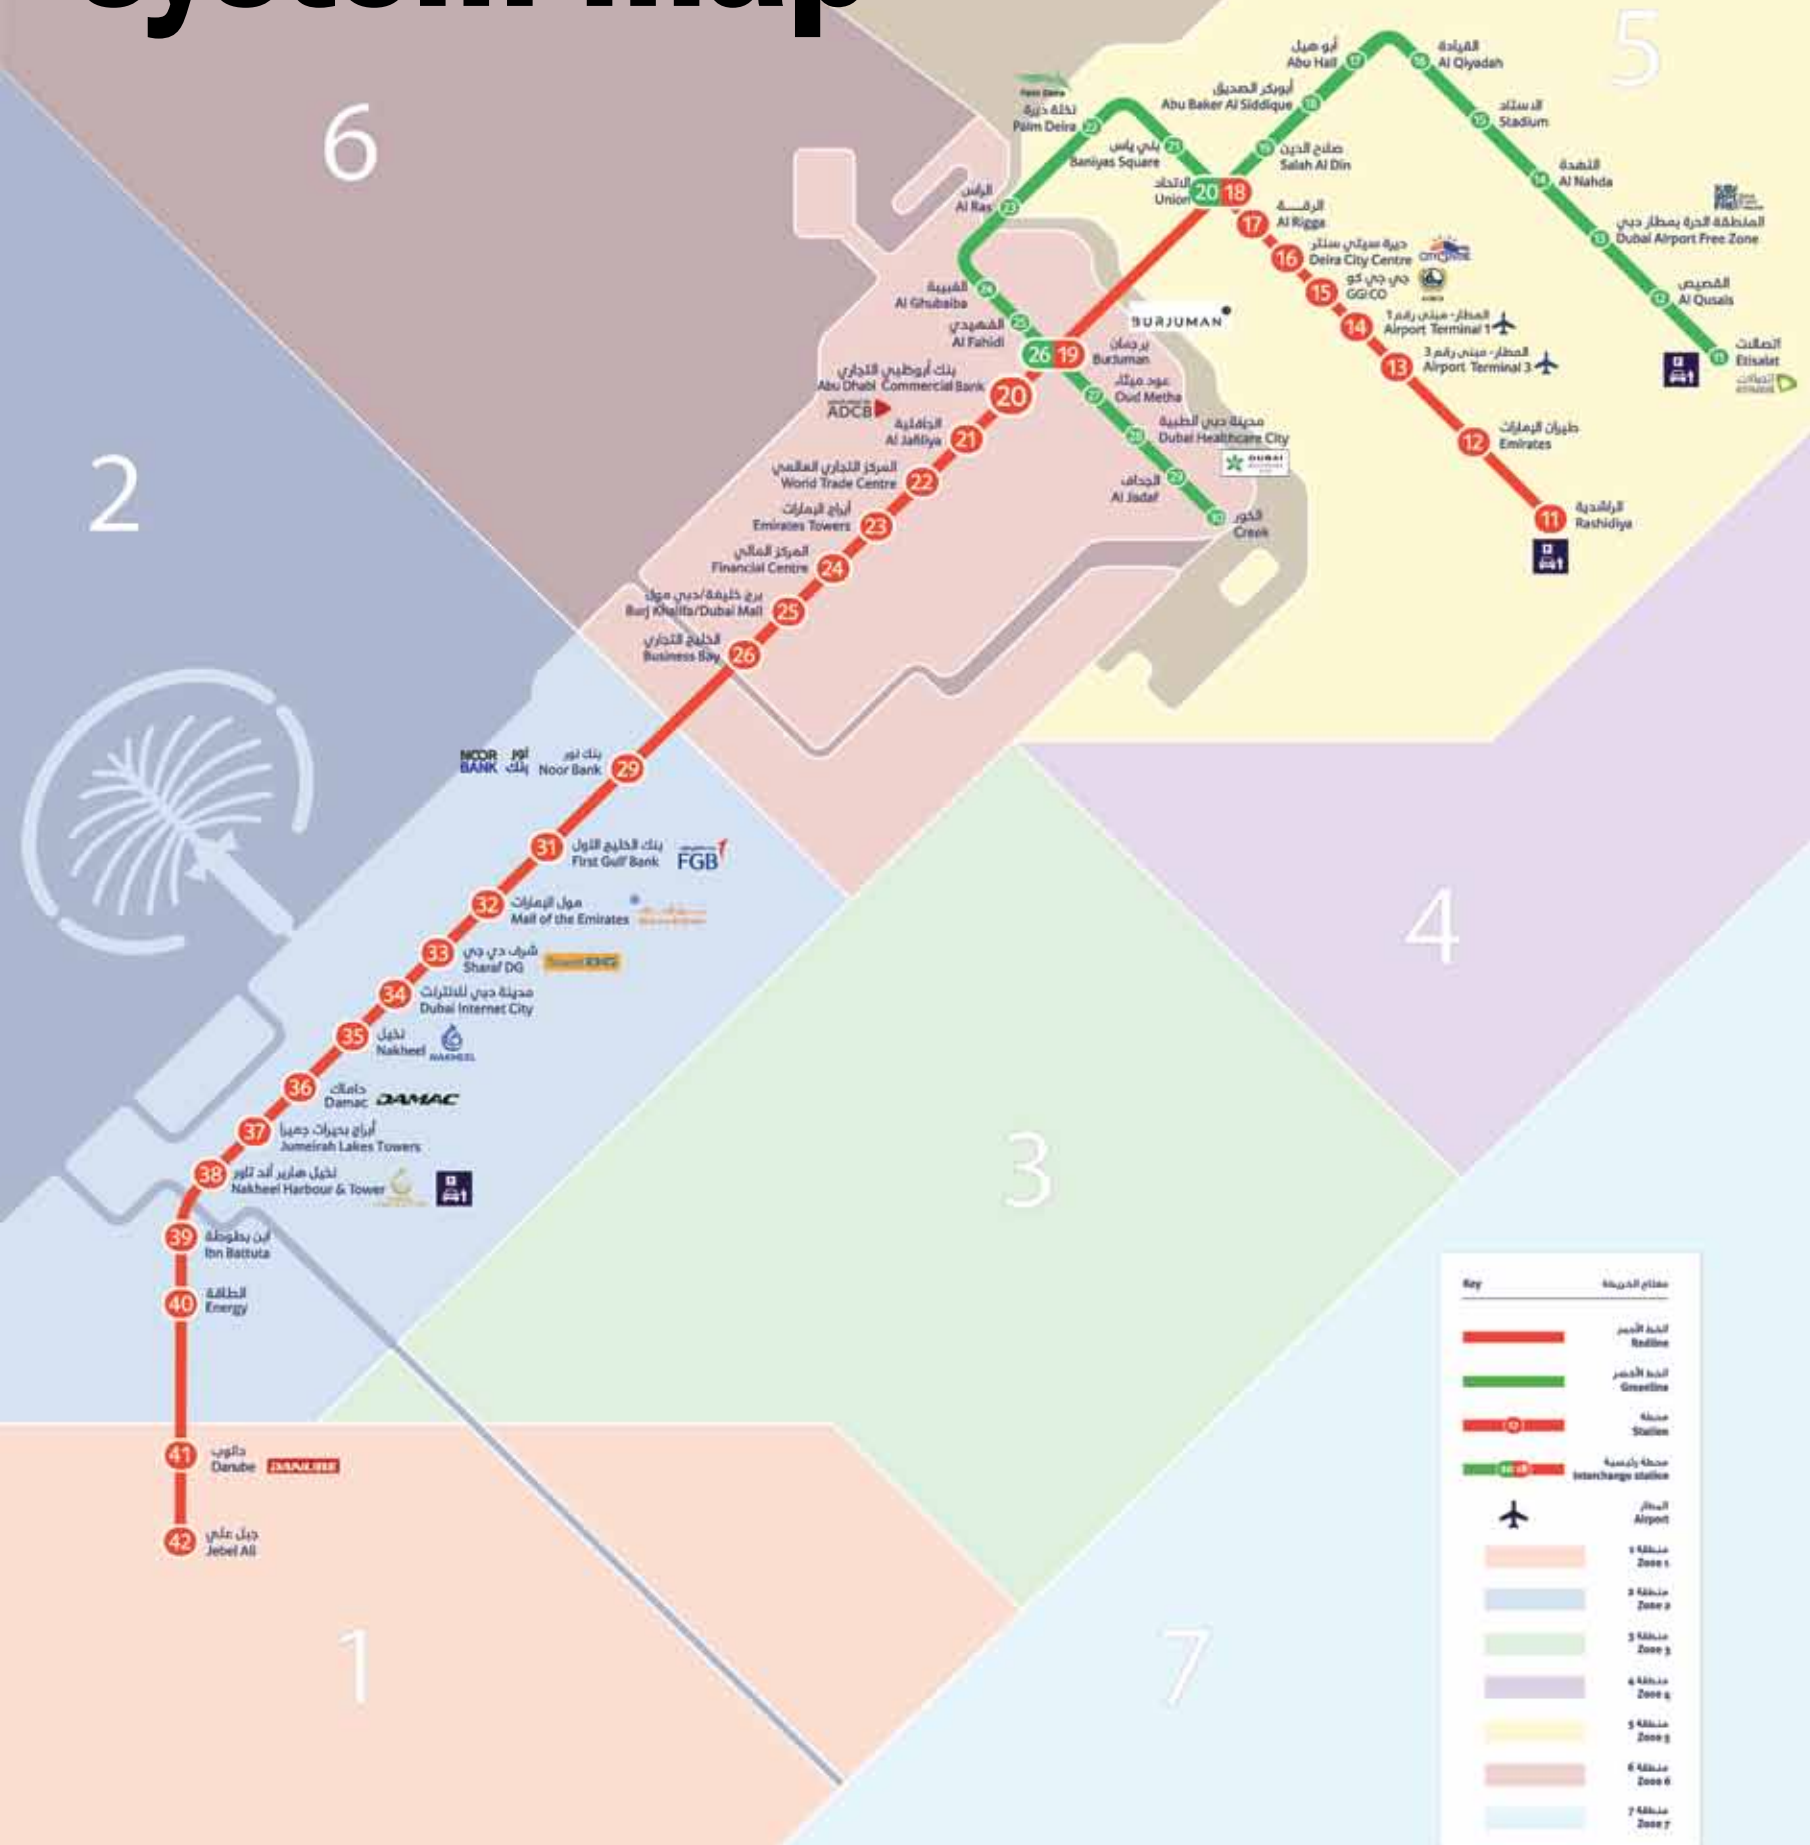

There's just something about a flying car which grabs people's attention. Frankly, it has been a sci-fi dream for decades; however it has now become a reality. A company from Slovakia called AeroMobil assembled a vehicle that can simply take to the air to avoid traffic.

The AeroMobil can fly 430 miles on a tank of petrol and is able to fit into a normal parking space once its wings are folded down. The tremendous vehicle was shown to the world on October 29th at the Pioneers Festival in Austria and seemed to have grabbed the attention of many drivers around the world.

The AeroMobil 3.0 sources power from a flat four-cylinder Rotax 912 aircraft engine, which provides it with a top speed of 160 km/h when it's at ground. On the other hand, when the AeroMobil's wings fold out, it has a top speed of 200 km/h. The vehicle is still however just a prototype, though people who are interested in this dream-fulfilling masterpiece may be able to order one soon enough.

RTA takes part in UAE Flag Day celebrations

RTA CEOs, directors and employees proudly and enthusiastically raise the national flag as precursor to National Day.

RTA UAE FLAG DAY CELEBRATIONS

PROJECTS

The Roads and Transport Authority (RTA), participated in the UAE Flag Day event on November 3, 2014, held in the context of the national initiative rolled out in 2012 by His Highness Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice-President and Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai, commemorating the accession of His Highness Sheikh Khalifa Bin Zayed Al Nahyan as the UAE President by hoisting the national flag in all entities, homes and public facilities across the UAE.

Mattar Al Tayer, RTA Chairman of the Board and Executive Director, hoisted the national flag above the mast at the front of the RTA head office in the presence of RTA CEOs and directors as well as employees who raised handheld flags articulating the blissful national moment.

Festivities included playing of the national anthem by a military band, followed by 21 RTA employees placing a mega UAE flag on a building facade, while 22 others displayed a commemorative fabric plaque. Attendees also posed for a group photo with Al Tayer next to a bus decorated with the UAE flag.

"The UAE Flag Day will remain an iconic day in our life embossed by HH Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, who set the path for us as to how to express our sense of belonging to a nation that beamed love and peace inside out such that I'm Emirati has become synonymous of good and virtue," said Al Tayer.

"Selecting 43 employees to carry the flag was meant to herald our 43rd National Day celebrations on the second of December as we believe the two events are a testament to the high profile and the lofty regard to this nation whose flag will forever remain in our hearts," he added.

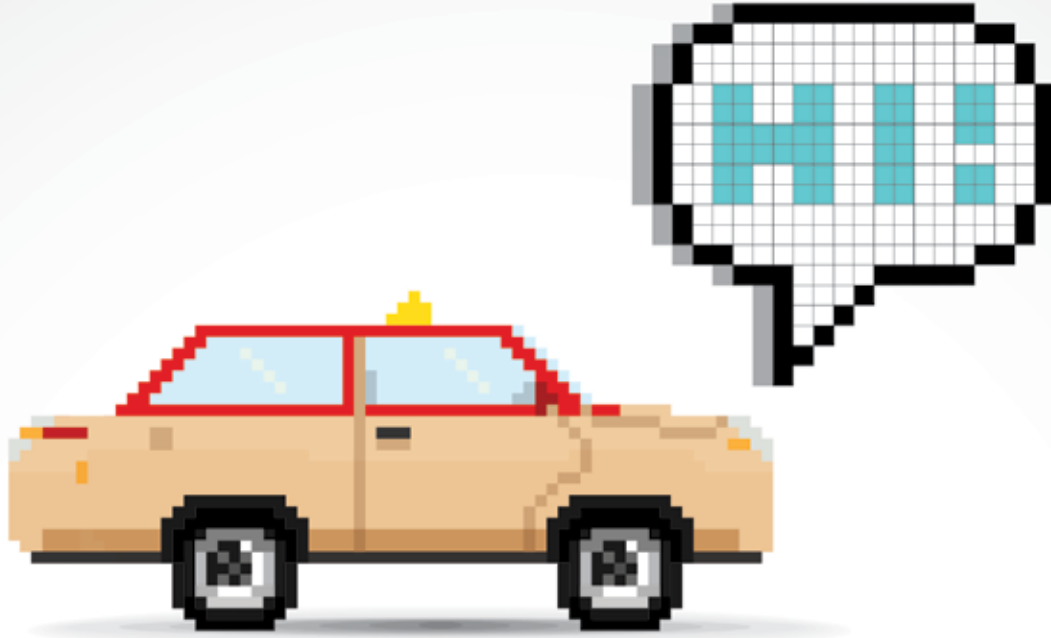

Yousef Al Rida, CEO of RTA Corporate Administrative Support Services Sector, said: "Events included distributing 3,000 flags by the Rail Agency at the six most populous stations namely: Deira City Centre, Union, Mall of the Emirates, Burj Khalifa/ Dubai Mall, BurJuman, and Al Fahidi.

"Additionally, 148 buses were wrapped with the UAE flag portraying a fine panoramic view blending the blue sky and seawater with the colours of the UAE flag crafted in a way that superbly express the love and tranquility featuring the UAE since the federation had been founded by the late Sheikh Zayed Bin Sultan Al Nahyan, and Sheikh Rashid Bin Saeed Al Maktoum, along with their brothers, the Rulers of the Emirates and Members of the Supreme Council of the Federation. Events also included giveaways to visitors of

Umm Al Ramool and Deira customer service centres who shared the events with us and always feel they live in a giving land that doesn't overlook them," he added.

Iggy Azalea reveals role in Furious 7

Australian rapper Iggy Azalea steps out of the rap world and ventures into the movie spotlight for the upcoming movie Furious 7. She has released a teaser in regards to her role for the much awaited seventh installment from the Fast & Furious film series. "I'm still scared of acting," she admitted. "It makes me very nervous because I don't want to be one of those artists that exerts themselves and they don't do a good job." Furthermore she reveals details in regards to her cameo alongside Vin Diesel - "I thought that I was just going to have to wave the flag and then I came and I got a car and I got some lines and then (my character is) friends with Vin (Diesel's character, Dominic Toretto). I'm kind of the head of this monster truck crew of people and I'm like the girl in charge and I have this big truck."

Nicole Kidman in negotiations to replace Gwyneth Paltrow for the remake of The Secret in their Eyes

Nicole Kidman is in talks to replace Gwyneth Paltrow in The Secret in Their Eyes, joining Julia Roberts and Chiwetel Ejiofor. The film is a remake of Argentine writer/director Juan Jose Campanella's 2010 movie, which won the 2010 Academy Awards for Best Foreign-Language Film. The original follows a retired attorney who writes a novel about an unsolved case and his unreciprocated love, hoping to put both behind him. Billy Ray will direct from a script he wrote, with some updates from the original.

Ariana Grande & Major Lazer teams up for Mockingjay soundtrack

The Mockingjay soundtrack -much like the actual movie- has been highly anticipated by fans. 17 year-old singer/songwriter Lorde is the album's curator and has recently revealed on twitter that the Love Me Harder singer's "angel pipes" will be featured on track #5: All My Love by Diplo's side project, Major Lazer. Ariana Grande retweeted a confirmation with the words "all my love". The soundtrack is due to be released on November 17.

Minions Trailer Released: Despicable Me co-stars get their own movie on 2015

Universal Pictures and Illumination Entertainment have released the first full-length trailer for the Despicable Me spin-off movie 'Minions'.

The film is directed by Pierre Coffin and Kyle Balda, it features the voices of Sandra Bullock and Jon Hamm and is set to premier on July 10, 2015.

Bollywood news

Shekhar Kapur to take on Tiger's Curse

Director Shekhar Kapur who came to be known because of his movie 'Elizabeth', will now be taking on 'Tiger's Curse'. The film is based on the first book from the New York Times bestselling book series by author Colleen Houck. Julie Plec, creator of "The Vampire Diaries" and "The Originals" has adapted the book for the screen. According to Kapur, "Colleen Houck has created a brilliant story of a young girl's journey through amazing adventures in the discovery of herself. But at its center, is an enthralling exploration of a young American teenager's heart. Her desires. Her fears. Her mission and how she wins. I am super excited to direct this film."

SRK wishes to share screen-space with Aamir Khan

It will be a great day for the fans of Bollywood actors -Shah Rukh Khan and Aamir Khan- once they have a chance to work together. In a recent interview from desimartini.com, New Year star Shah Rukh Khan mentioned that he wishes to be able to work with Aamir Khan. He says that he is willing to share screen-space with Aamir Khan only if there is a director who can justify their difference in characters. Although Shah Rukh Khan and Aamir Khan have shared a friendly relationship off screen, the thought of having a story that consists of the two is enticing indeed.

Aishwarya Rai gives a go signal to other films

Having just celebrated her 41st birthday, actress Aishwarya Rai has confirmed signing in with other films besides her upcoming film 'Jazbaa'. Expressing her excitement for the film she tells the media, "Unlike the last two years, this year I have something to talk about. I have loved the script of 'Jazbaa' and we will start shooting for it from January. I am excited about this film." She admits to looking forward to a busy year but reassures her fans that she will work hard. There is no news in regards to the other films as according to Aishwarya it would only be proper that the news and details come directly from the director and producer of the said films.

YRF's Mardaani receives continuous appreciation

Even after its release a couple of months back, Maardani star Rani Mukerji has acquired the continuous support and appreciation from audiences across the world. Mukerji portrayed the role of 'Shivani Shivaji Roy' in the film in which she impressed her audiences with her spectacular performance. The film has not only been given support from India but as well as from International Film Festivals. Maardani was recently screened last October 24 at the Prague Bollywood Festival and is due to have another screening on November 8 this time at the Taipei Golden Horse Film Festival.

What's in your stars?

The Read. astrologer tells you what you can expect over the next seven days.

ARIES

(MAR 21 - APR 20)

The week starts emotionally and weird and sends you in a very different direction. The people you're with are not that emotional; also, they're not weird. A fiery romance comes to its full brightness in the course of an outdoor activity, adventure or escape.

TAURUS

(APR 21 - MAY 21)

Treat someone to lunch and find a way to raise a sensitive subject. It'll go so much better than you think, you'll leave feeling happy, confident and secure. Not only is the world beautiful right now, but a beautiful person is returning your affections.

GEMINI

(MAY 22 - JUN 21)

Your prevailing concern is to not spend any money. When you accomplish this, you feel fantastic. Your goals are a bit broader. You want to be closer to your friends, know their thoughts better, and harness your collective talents for the good of something.

CANCER

(JUN 22 - JUL 23)

It's all about starting fresh, finding clarity and following your instincts. You're distracted by thoughts of a purchase you want to make, a fairly major purchase. But later your thoughts aren't about material goods: Communication and connection are your priorities.

LEO

(JUL 24 - AUG 23)

You start the week off on the right foot — with a deep and rich sense of what you want. But you're not thinking selfishly. You want what's right for everyone. As happy as you are, you also feel sensitive, which is why the successes feel so, well, incredible.

VIRGO

(AUG 24 - SEP 23)

Gather a bunch of people together and make a little speech. Even if the speech is, 'I just wanted to say, even though this is totally random, that I love you all.' You get your inspiration from other people, and you're only now starting to think of clever ways to tell them.

LIBRA

(SEP 24 - OCT 23)

Pay close attention to what you're doing but don't consider anything else. When you look up from your work, you're surrounded by friends and people who love you, which is what anyone should see when they look up from a period of intense concentration.

SCORPIO

(OCT 24 - NOV 22)

Part of you wants to begin the week very much in control. But the truth is, you are not in control, and you will be much happier if you let go a little bit. See where things will take you. The boss is on a rampage, so avoid any conversations that are not absolutely necessary.

SAGITTARIUS

(NOV 23 - DEC 21)

You have many more questions than answers, but this can be a virtue. Sure, there are those people who are always so sure of themselves, but who wants to be like them? They're the only ones who think they know all the answers! Honesty is your best weapon.

CAPRICORN

(DEC 22 - JAN 20)

You're focused almost entirely on one person. In particular, you're wishing you two could be somewhere else together, somewhere away from everyone else. Alas, you have obligations. You're thinking about making new plans, and seeing them on the horizon.

AQUARIUS

(JAN 21 - FEB 19)

Stop what you're doing and organise a bit, everything will get better. Not only will you be able to see what you're doing, but you'll also have clarity of mind. The rest of the week is extraordinary, exciting, full of surprises, everything you'd want them to be.

PISCES

(FEB 20 - MAR 20)

This week is full of romance, and a bunch of other stuff, too: music, poetry, maybe dancing. But romance is really the key element. A little action on the love front also inspires you to work out more, which explains why going to the gym is in the stars.
