How to save your KIDS in crowded places

Finding your child could not possibly become any easier than this. Be prepared for the ritual of holidays and family celebrations with all the details, which includes keeping your kids safe in parks, beaches or any other crowded places. READ asked a few people what they usually do when they leave home along with their kids, so it's best you listen well and learn to avoid this nightmare in the coming season:

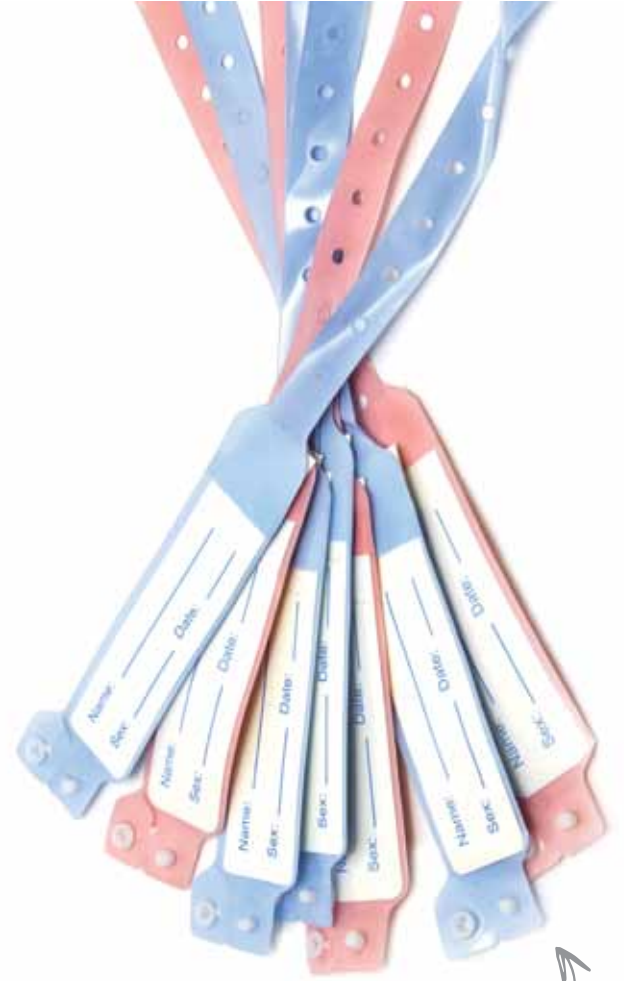

Photo ID

You may not be thinking of this, but always retain a recent image for each and every one of your children wherever you go. In case of a lost child, you can ask the people around if they have seen the child by simply showing them the picture. That picture will definitely come in handy.

Light up accessories

They're children, so you can simply convince them into wearing an accessory such as a necklace or bracelet which light up at night. Once it's lit, you will be prompt to see them wherever they may be, making it easier to find them in case they are out of sight. From their perspective, all this is, is a fun game, which creates a special fashion of its own.

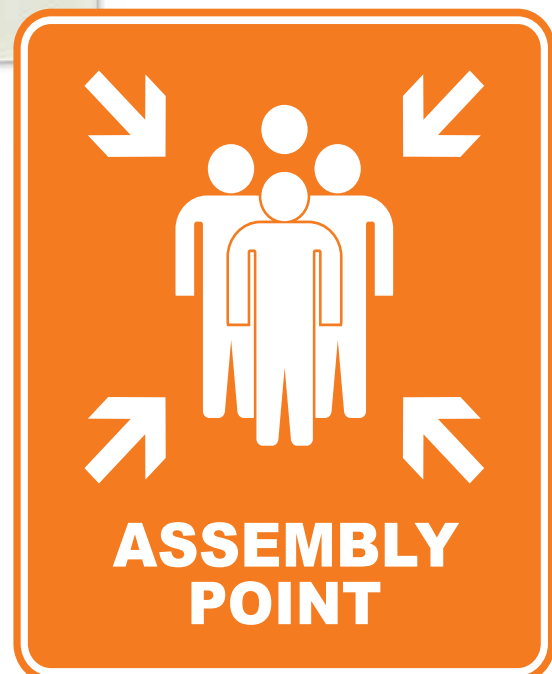

ID bracelets

Another useful method in relation to accessories is the ID Bracelet, similar to the ones found hospitals. All you need to do is write down their names and your phone number as the guardian. Remind them they have it and tell them to show it someone if they get lost. Make sure you keep this life savior with you at all costs.

Benchmarking

Find a place to designate as your benchmark or 'meeting spot' if you get separated from one of your children, once you arrive to the crowded area. Fool your children into thinking it's a game of some sort for them to remember the benchmark very well. In case of separation, the children will return to the designated area and you will cross paths with your loved ones once more. Avoid meeting areas that are crowded at all times. Instead, choose a less popular area to meet up, like the security booth, information centre, or a restaurant you were planning to eat in.

Fast metabolism

If you are one of the lucky people who has a fast metabolism, you are both loved and loathed. A fast metabolism usually means that weight loss and/or maintaining your weight is easier for you than most people. Here are some basic information in regards to having a fast metabolism.

What is metabolism?

It is the chemical process that converts food into energy and it has two parts. The catabolic reaction, which breaks down the food so it can easily be digested in order for the nutrients to go where they are supposed to go in your body, and the anabolic reaction which occurs when these smaller, broken down pieces are used to build new tissue and take care of your body.

Fast metabolism

Gas is to car as food is to your body. Compared with someone with a normal or slow metabolism, having a fast metabolism, means your body is not as efficient at converting food into usable metabolic energy. Genetic factors, hormones and certain medical conditions affect your metabolic rate. Basal metabolic rate is referred to how fast your body breaks down your food. It is this rate that determines how fast or slow your overall metabolism is and, ultimately, how your body weight is affected.

Symptoms

If you are having trouble gaining weight or muscle, that is usually the first sign that you may have a fast metabolism. This may sound good to some, but for people who are underweight, this can lead to some serious health issues. In attempts to gaining weight, results can lead in overeating fattening foods which can lead to other problems. Many people who are trying to gain weight will tend to eat all types of food that are not necessarily good for them.

Disadvantages

For those who struggle with their weight, it may be a dream come true; but ask someone who has a fast metabolism and they will tell you it is not as fun as it sounds. A person who has to deal with this does not want to go through the ordeal of being accused as someone with an eating disorder. Another is having difficulty in building muscle, as the body burns off the food too quickly, leaving nothing left for muscle growth.

Slow it down

There are factors that may help in slowing down this particular struggle. Diet is an important one, stay away from fatty foods and choose healthier options like whole wheat pasta or brown rice as opposed to 'white' foods. Getting plenty of sleep can also help as it helps store fat in the body; also try to reduce your exercise time in order to not burn off what you worked hard to put on.

The big city of dreams

Vast and Lively, Tokyo brims with delightful contrasts and has something for everyone.

By Wissam Aoun

There's no one out there who doesn't deserve to go on an adventurous trip, a trip to remember for the rest of your life. And if you're willing to escape on this unforgettable journey, Tokyo will be waiting for you. Prepare to be dazzled as you navigate the world's largest metropolis, with cutting edge modern technology, futuristic fashions and up-to-the-second style. Tokyo offers one of the best traditional culture and passion for everything new. Once you arrive to this tremendous city, it'll feel like you've touched down on another planet.

You're not afraid of heights are you? Go ahead and visit the Tokyo Sky Tree, you surely won't regret it. It's an engineering marvel rising high up to the skies of Tokyo, making it the new landmark for the city, with its marvelous silvery exterior of steel. The tower boasts spectacular panorama, where visitors will be whisked up to observation decks at 350 and 450 meters, and the structure also houses numerous shops and restaurants along with an aquarium and theatre.

TOKYO SKY TREE

Make sure you add visiting the Tokyo National Museum on your to do list. This grand museum is considered the Louvre of Japan. Its walls hold the world's largest collection of Japanese art to a limit where you could actually spend half a day observing the galleries here. The Tokyo National Museum houses four galleries with different kinds of art, where the art varies from Japanese art history to ancient pottery and religious sculpture, all the way to armour, exquisite lacquerware and calligraphy.

NIGHT VIEW OF TOKYO BAY

TOKYO DISNEYLAND

Believe it or not, Tokyo has a Disneyland of its own. So why not go on this childhood break and enjoy the familiar theme with a distinctive Japanese twist. Tokyo Disneyland is one of the most popular theme parks in Japan, hosting 7 themed areas. The Tokyo version of Disneyland contains several classic Disney World attractions like the Jungle Cruise, Pirates of the Caribbean, the Swiss Family Treehouse and the Enchanted Tiki Room. Make sure you pass by before heading back.

Tech shopping on a whole new level

A new underwater store is yet to come our way. Sony Mobile MEA will open up the world's first Xperia Aquatech store in Dubai, where it will host the "first-ever" technology showcase at a depth of four meters underwater. Visitors will have the privilege to go through a unique experience as they shop for all Xperia waterproof smartphones, tablets and accessories.

Sony has claimed that the store, which launches on the 3rd of December, will be open for three days hosting VIPs, competition winners and regional and international media. The Japanese electronics manufacturer has previously launched the so called 'world's most waterproof phone'; the Xperia M2 Aqua, along with the latest of all – the Xperia Z3 Dual and Z3 Compact.

Ease your way out of danger

There's nothing more important than our health and safety in this world. And that's why another special smartwatch has been launched, a unique smartwatch which is rather different from the latest offerings from Apple and Samsung. The "Embrace" smartwatch can, believe it or not, spot the warning signs of an epileptic seizure.

Now, your obviously wondering how the technology behind Embrace works. Well, it measures the skin's electrical activity as a proxy for changes deep in the brain, and uses a model built on years of clinical data to tell which changes portend a seizure. What it also does is gather the usual temperature and motion data that smartwatches collect, allowing the wearer to measure physical activity and sleep quality. The main goal of Embrace is to prevent sudden unexplained death in epilepsy.

A beauty and a beast

After cruising the streets with the 2015 Volkswagen Beetle, I can finally say that this vehicle has more power and less flower. The Volkswagen Beetle has evolved from a mass-market car into this stylish new version it possesses today. Now, if you're somebody who's looking for a small coupe that provides equal amounts of style and function, this is what you're after.

The Volkswagen Beetle is characterised by a distinctive retro look, combined with modern mechanical parts, a classy interior and sporty handling. This car boasts an admirable 210 Hp and an all-new 2.0L turbocharged four-cylinder engine, with a top speed of 227 km/h – which made me roam the roads quicker than ever. But let's not forget, safety always comes first!

With multi-function leather wrapped steering wheel; Fender Audio System; and fine leather seats, it got as comfortable as it can get. Let's not forget the available tech and equipment upgrades such as the USB, Bluetooth, navigation, and sunroof which were all offered in the vehicle, arousing my confidence as a driver to a whole new level.

Mazda: new horizons

The Los Angeles Auto Show was just the place for Mazda to take the wraps off its gutsy new CX-3 compact crossover. The 2-liter powered vehicle holds a coupe-like appearance however has four doors. The CX-3 will find itself competing with Nissan's Juke, Peugeot 2008, and the Renault Captur, however it could have an advantage thanks to its style.

Mazda states that an optimal driving position allows the driver to enjoy a clear view and drive with a feeling of confidence. The vehicle boasts an impressive 155 horsepower four-cylinder engine mated to a six-speed automatic transmission.

The interior is promised to be roomy, where the driving position is set high for better visibility.

5 hidden reasons why EMPLOYEES leave

There are many obvious benefits of retaining your employees. In fact, your company's ability to retain top employees is a key pillar of its success. Employee turnover is costly and time consuming, that's why it's important that you take a deeper look at the causes of your current situation before it gets out of control. The good news is that most of the reasons why employees leave their jobs are within your control, but what about the less obvious ones? Akhtaboot is here to highlight the 5 hidden reasons that can push your employees to quit

Lack of Coaching and Feedback

Every day, new employees join organisations with a wide range of misconceptions and expectations. Some stay and adjust, some disengage and stay, and many disengage and leave. Your employees need to clearly understand what you expect of them, and how you will measure their performance. Employees need to understand the company's vision. It's never enough to ask them to blindly follow. No one can commit to a goal if they don't see why it's important for them to do it in the first place. Make sure that employee objectives are measurable, and work closely with them to align their personal goals with those of your business.

Unclear Expectations

While you definitely want to talk about the benefits that your company offers, you also need to give an accurate picture of the real situation to potential hires. Being honest and open about the challenges associated with the job can help you filter out those who'll end up leaving the company. Take note of the candidate's body language and facial expressions during the interview. If the candidate remains enthusiastic even after you've explained the challenges of the position, you have a good contender on your hands.

Lack of Growth Opportunities

Discussing career paths and growth opportunities is not something most companies do regularly. But your employees need to feel that they have a purpose. They want to know where they belong in the big picture and that they are making a difference. Smart companies understand that in order to keep their employees, they have to take the time to discuss their personal goals and career aspirations. Although managers may hesitate to approach the topic for many different reasons, for any employee that is worth keeping, you should make it clear that you are invested in helping him reach his own career goals and not only yours.

Lack of Appreciation

A major problem occurs when companies do nothing to build employee dedication, and rarely shows appreciation - be it monetary or verbal. Employees want to feel important and appreciated. Don't hold back when it comes to celebrating small wins and make it a habit to recognise and praise everyday successes. That's how you keep your employees challenged. They continuously want to achieve the best they can. Even when a project goes bad, try to find the good in the situation. Every day appreciation keeps great employees producing great results. Remember that public recognition can be a great push for all of your employees.

Poor Cultural Fit

Many companies fail to measure cultural fit. But since employees spend more than third of their lives at work, cultural fit should be taken into consideration as a major factor in employee turnover. There are many employees who are amazing on paper, and yet fail to get along with the company environment and colleagues.

An artistic milestone for UNITY

Dubai aims yet again for another world record, in conjunction with preparations to celebrate the U.A.E.'s 43rd National Day

Since Dubai has always strived for big records, they now plan to break its latest record-breaking record with the longest collaborative graffiti painting in the world, marking the UAE's 43rd National Day celebrations. The graffiti painting, entitled 'Our Journey', extends for 2180 metres and is expected to enter Guinness Book of World Records as the world's longest graffiti. It is said that the graffiti painting resembles the map of the UAE and should display a glance of the country's progress throughout history, from its golden past to the bright present and promising future.

The project comes in response to the directives of Vice President and Prime Minister and Ruler of Dubai His Highness Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum, to transform the city of dreams into an open museum that will dazzle the world with its unique experiment and tremendous achievements. Saif Bin Markhan Al Ketbi, Director-General of the Office of the Crown Prince of Dubai, declared: " 'Our Journey' will serve as a unique 'documentary' with a contemporary artistic vision, highlighting the progress of The Union and merging the efforts of a number of distinctive graffiti artists from across the world who will apply their talents while working on a creative platform alongside their peers from the Arab world, including renowned Emirati artists."

THE ORYX, NATIVE TO THE ARABIAN PENINSULA

THE PEN AND THE IMPORTANCE OF ARABIC CALLIGRAPHY

Around 70 international artists will form the core of the art team working on the painting, where they are joined by 30 Arab and 20 Emirati artists who will work closely on 'Our Journey' – consuming over 7000 paint spray containers which were assured to be environmentally friendly. The event, taking place from November 29-30 will be open to all families, citizens, expats, and visitors in the country, granting everyone the chance to enjoy the National Day celebrations and festivities.

Hollywood news

Halle Berry back in court with Gabriel Aubry over their Daughter's Hair.

Halle Berry begs a judge to stop her ex, Gabriel Aubry from straightening their daughter's hair. The two parents seem to disagree on how their daughter, Nahla should style her hair. Halle states that Gabriel is trying to make their daughter "less African-American" by straightening and giving highlights to the child's natural curly hair. However, it turns out that Halle and her lawyer had quite a stand in court. In the end, the judge ruled that neither Halle or Gabriel had no right to change their 6-year-old daughter's hair and that it should be allowed to grow back naturally.

Christian Bale admits he is jealous of Ben Affleck

After Christian Bale declined the offer to play the role of Batman in the upcoming Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice movie, he admittedly told Empire Magazine that he still has troubles coming to terms with Ben Affleck. He says, "I've got to admit initially, even though I felt that it was the right time to stop, there was always a bit of me going, 'Oh go on... Let's do another'... So when I heard there was someone else doing it, there was a moment where I just stopped and stared into nothing for half an hour. I'm 40. The fact that I'm jealous of someone else playing Batman... I think I should have gotten over it by now... I haven't spoken with Ben, but I emailed him offering bits of advice that I learned the hard way. I would imagine he is doing everything he can to avoid anything what I did." Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice is set to be released on March 2016.

Taylor Swift receives first-ever Dick Clark Award for Excellence

Taylor Swift was ecstatic and truly thrilled after she received her first ever Dick Clark Award for Excellence during the 42nd American Music Awards. According to Dick Clark Productions, the award is "given to an artist who achieves a groundbreaking feat or creates a landmark work. It is to be bestowed upon someone whose spirit and excellence capture the visionary passion that Dick Clark himself incorporated into everything he did." Swift was awarded the accolade for her "historical album sales as the only artist in the history to have three albums – Speak Now, Red and 1989 – each debuting with more than 1 million sold in their first week."

The Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit director, Peter Jackson to get star on Hollywood Walk Of Fame

Oscar-winning New Zealand Director, Peter Jackson is set to be honored with the Star on Dec 8, 2014. His star is to be placed outside the Dolby Theatre, the venue for the Academy Awards. Peter Jackson is famously known for his movies, The Lord of The Rings, and The Hobbit. He has won over 20 awards including 3 Academy Awards and the award for Best Director.

Kim Kardashian cancels trip to India

Kim Kardashian's visit to the Big Boss House has been cancelled due to a visa problem. News from the Hindustan Times stated that Kim "needed to appear at the consulate office in Mumbai as she was coming from a foreign country. Unfortunately, her schedule is too tight and she would have been left with no time if she had squeezed in a visit to the consulate. She had to therefore cancel her India trip as she had a lot of commitments in Dubai." Meanwhile, Kim apologized to her fans on Instagram stating, "To all my wonderful fans in India, I'm so disappointed I wasn't able to come to India as planned. When the opportunity presented itself to make the trip, there was a short window to coordinate all the elements necessary to make the trip. Unfortunately, time ran out so the trip has been cancelled. I look forward to rescheduling and meeting everyone soon!"

Happy New Year script lands in the Oscar's Library

After the copious success of Shah Rukh Khan's, Happy New Year, the movie's script has been included into the Oscars library. Filmmaker, Farah Khan took to social networking website Twitter, to share her joy and delight over the news and thanked her co-writers for penning the script saying, "1 more reason 2 celebrate!! #HNY script goes to the Oscar library!! Bigg kiss to my co writers @mayurpuri n Althea k". The film was released Oct 24, 2014.

Riteish Deshmukh and Genelia D'Souza: It's a boy!

A new chapter unfolds as the lovely B-town couple welcomes a new member into their family. Riteish excitedly announced on twitter, "It's a BBBBOOOYYYYYYY!!!!!!". Ever since Genelia was confirmed to be pregnant, the couple has been garnering headlines. The real life on screen partners shared great chemistry in films like Tujhe Meri Kasam and Tere Naal Love Ho Gaya. Now with the youngest Deshmukh in the clan, the couple is sure to paint the town red with celebrations.

Salman Khan's case of hit and run should end by December

In 2002 Salman was arrested for negligent driving which allegedly killed one person and injured four others. The 2002 prosecution of the hit and run case informed the sessions court, that Mr. Shrikant Shivade, Salman's lawyer, asked for a trial postponement for the reason that the defendant was not provided with a list of witnesses. However, the judge stated that the trial has been going on for 13 years and should end by December. Besides this, the actor had a few shares of other legal charges. Salman had been sentenced to prison in February 2006 for hunting a Chinkara and was handed a 5 year jail term in April 10, 2006 but was granted bail and released in April 13, 2006.

RTA launches 10 new smart kiosks in Dubai

New services include renewal of driver licence and parking cards via network of smart kiosks in various localities.

AHMED MAHBOOB

SERVICES

The Roads and Transport Authority (RTA) has installed 10 new smart kiosks, bringing the total number of smart kiosks in Dubai to 16, and has also launched two more smart kiosk services, to raise the array of services offered via these devices to eight.

The installation of the new smart kiosks and uploading of the new additional services is part of the RTA's tireless endeavours to achieve its third strategic goal of bringing happiness to people while processing their daily transactions in implementation of the directives of His Highness Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice-President and Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai, to bring happiness to people around-the-clock, and in keeping with the objectives of the Hamdan Bin Mohammed Program for Smart Government.

In the same context, Ahmed Mahboob, Director of RTA Customer Service, said: "We have got in place a plan to revamp our services via smart kiosks as we have noticed a significant increase in the number of users coupled with a higher satisfaction rating of customers processing their transactions through these kiosks; which save much of their time and effort.

"This has prompted us to install 10 additional kiosks such that the total number of smart kiosks in service rises to 16 and work is up and running to activate services in the remaining kiosks. The kiosks are distributed over several locations, including the RTA head office and customer service centres at Umm Al Ramool, Deira, Al Barsha, Al Tawar, Tasjeel Al Barsha, JBR, Al Awir, Al Manara, Al Karama, Tasjeel Al Qusais, Wasl Belhasa, Quick and Shamil Al Muhaisna.

"Two additional services were added to these kiosks; namely the renewal of driver licence (currently available in the kiosk at the RTA head office only) and the renewal of seasonal parking cards, over and above the existing array of services which include: renewal of vehicle registration, inquiry and payment of fines, printing vehicle certificate, receipt of a document, issuing of vehicle registration card, and issuing of replacement of damaged/lost vehicle registration card," said Mahboob.

"The RTA is assessing tenders for strategic investment partnerships with the aim of broadening the scope of smart kiosks and beefing up services on offer, as about 100 parking card transactions were processed within two days only. A plan is currently being implemented whereby these kiosks will be installed outside the premises of customer service centres so that customers can have access to these kiosks 24/7. Another plan is also under consideration to offer other payment options, besides payment through credit card which is currently in use, such as using NFC technology in smart phones, Nol cards and the e-purse.

"The smart kiosk is the first of its kind device across the Dubai Government level which uses the ID card info to validate the identity of the user, and ease the processing of transactions without requiring customers to appear in person to the front desk staffs, besides the availability of a camera and a telephone to render instant assistance to customers through audio-visual mode in case of any procedural or technical glitch the customer might experience," added Mahboob.

SPORT SHORTS

Football:

Chelsea manage to cruise into the knockout stages of the Champions League after an unstoppable journey remaining unbeaten at home and in Europe. Whereas Lionel Messi became the record Champions League goalscorer as Barcelona thrashed APOEL 4-0. Hope still remains for Manchester City after Sergio Aguero's late goals earned the Citizens a 3-2 victory over Bayern Munich.

Athletics:

Mo Farah will debut his 2015 racing schedule at the international Great Edinburgh Cross Country on the 10th of January. The double Olympic champion's appearance will be his first cross-country race for four years. The 31-year-old looks forward to defending his 5000m and 10000m crowns at the Beijing World Championship. "Next year will be an important year for me," he stated.

Formula 1:

Lewis Hamilton admits that he expects to remain at Mercedes for the upcoming years after clinching the Formula 1 Championship title in Abu Dhabi, beating team-mate Nico Rosberg. The Briton has revealed that a new contract should take place in the forthcoming weeks, hoping for it to be longer than three years.

Not a problem

Chris Robshaw has declared that the squad are not losing their confidence and are certainly not panicking after losing to New Zealand and South Africa. England lost 24-21 to world champions New Zealand before suffering another loss from the South Africans.

But the English captain insisted that he and his fellow squad members are still feeling confident and believe they are still on the right path ahead of next year's World Cup which will take place on English soil. "We haven't quite got the results we wanted in the first two games playing against the two best teams in the world but we believe what we're about," Robshaw said.

Road to recovery

Rafael Nadal will make his return to the tennis courts in January for the Abu Dhabi exhibition tournament, following his appendix surgery this month. The Spaniard had his appendix removed in the first week of November, forcing him to miss the ATP World Tour Finals.

"I will play in Abu Dhabi in January, and after that I will play my first official tournament in Doha." said the 28-year-old. The tournament in Abu Dhabi is scheduled to take place from 1-3 January.

CROSSWORD

Spot the 10 differences

What's in your stars?

The Read. astrologer tells you what you can expect over the next seven days.

ARIES

(MAR 21 - APR 20)

You're a trendsetter, the one out front, the example. This isn't really something you planned for yourself. You just have some restless energy. You can't help it. Later, you slow down a bit, mostly so you can take stock of your feelings and your finances.

TAURUS

(APR 21 - MAY 21)

Mostly you have differing thoughts about your time and the pace at which you're moving. Should you slow your goal trajectory a bit? Should you accelerate it? Later, you're not really bothered by such questions, mostly because you're so intensely happy.

GEMINI

(MAY 22 - JUN 21)

Someone is coming at you with advice. You might take offense to this person saying that (essentially) you don't know what you're doing. But on those days you're thrilled, because it's really good advice. You can put your feelings aside and recognize the value of their words.

CANCER

(JUN 22 - JUL 23)

Your brain is much quicker than usual. Your feelings are a bit closer to the surface, too. It will take effort to keep from responding to things that normally wouldn't get to you, but it's just a mood thing. You'll be a lot more open to anything anyone wants to toss your way.

LEO

(JUL 24 - AUG 23)

A conversation with someone reverses a conviction you've held for a long time. Something you were very sure of turned upside down! It's funny how one person's perspective can change everything. You're trying to reinforce a good impression.

VIRGO

(AUG 24 - SEP 23)

You know exactly what you're doing, and it gives all of your actions a kind of magical vividness and a sense of inevitability. This is a talent of yours, something you've cultivated, this knowing what you're doing, and you can call it up even when you have no idea what you're doing!

LIBRA

(SEP 24 - OCT 23)

You're focused on a certain relationship. It might be romantic or it might be professional, but whatever it is, you can barely think about anything else. Most likely the issue is that there's compromise required, and you're just not sure if you're prepared to bend. Give it some time.

SCORPIO

(OCT 24 - NOV 22)

In the middle of helping someone else, you might do something equally random and painful. It's not going to be a lasting pain, but you'll remember it at least for a while. Later, you're banged around again emotionally. Someone has their hands on your heart, and they're letting you know they know it.

SAGITTARIUS

(NOV 23 - DEC 21)

This week is romantic, but not in a gushy way. They're romantic in a way that involves playing games and laughing hysterically. Later, you have some responsibilities to attend to; as much as you'd like to be thinking big-picture thoughts, it's the details that need your attention.

CAPRICORN

(DEC 22 - JAN 20)

This week will find you protecting your resources, especially in the career and family realms. You're worried about something, or perhaps you're just getting sentimental. Maybe the resources you're protecting are simply keepsakes.

AQUARIUS

(JAN 21 - FEB 19)

You make so many discoveries that you'd be wise to keep a notebook with you, just to keep track of it all. These periods of discovery happen a lot in your life and are good for your brain. They give you energy and you're bending your brain around new things.

PISCES

(FEB 20 - MAR 20)

You're at a loss. Someone is not telling you something and you can tell, but you can't tell who it is or why. You just have this funny feeling. Not that you mind a mystery. As a matter of fact, you get into this position a lot, this 'I know something is up' position.
